PORCH FURNITURE

THAT WILL STAND THE WEAR AND THE TEAR.

You must get something more than mere "LOOKS" in furniture for the porch if you would derive the full benefit of the money you spend. If it is to stand the assaults of summer storms it should be weather proof and very strong. We illustrate a chair of that nature with

MAPLE FRAME AND SPLIT REED SEAT.

The reed seat is double woven assuring splendid service. The maple is selected for its soundness and strength. While it is but one of a dozen or more patterns we carry in stock, yet it fulfils the idea we wish to convey of our complete readiness with Porch Furniture that will do valiant duty in the summer home. It comes in natural finish and also in green. $1.75

NOMINATIONS TO PRECEDE PLATFORM.

Resolutions to be Held Back and Made Acceptable to Candidate.

Bryan's Plan Adopted, But the Nebraskan Declines to Head the Committee.

BALTIMORE, June 26.—By a vote of 22 to 18, the rules committee today agreed to a plan proposed by W. J. Bryan, to defer the presentation of the platform until after the party's candidate for President has been nominated. In the absence of any true indication as to whether the conservative or the progressive wing of the party would dominate the convention, it was considered good policy to hold back the platform in order to have it so drawn as to be acceptabel to the convention's choice.

Another important proposition passed upon by the rules committee was the recognition of the authority of a state convention to instruct delegates to national conventions in the enforcement of the unit rule, in the absence of a specific statute. The proposition of recognition of the authority of a state convention arose because of the situation in the Ohio delegation.

The state convention had instructed the Ohio delegation by a vote of 600 to 325 to vote as a unit for Governor Harmon. Nineteen members of Ohio's delegation, however, claimed the right to violate those instructions because they had been elected as avowed Wilson men in their respective districts and wished to vote for him. J. W. Peck, the Ohio member of the committee, made the fight for the Harmon contention, and Mayor Baker of Cleveland for the Wilson delegates. After a prolonged debate the following resolution, offered by Peck, was adopted, 22 to 15.

"It shall be the rule of this convention that all states which have been instructed by their respective state Democratic conventions or by a Democratic Presidential preferential primary shall follow those instructions, so long as a majority of the delegates from such states are of the opinion that such instruction is applicable."

Not being in sympathy with the forces "seemingly in control of the Baltimore convention," W. J. Bryan today refused to accept the chairmanship of the resolutions committee tendered him. Senator Kern of Indiana was elected, as Mr. Bryan twice refused the honor. In refusing to accept the chairmanship Mr. Bryan said;

"I appreciate the compliment, but I am not willing to act as chairman. I am a believer in harmony, but I think the committee ought to be in harmony with the convention, and I am not in harmony with the organization of the convention or the national committee which controls the organization. We used to have two kinds of Democrats, progressives and conservatives. We now have only one kind, progressive, but we find there is a wide difference in the definition of the word 'progressive'. I do not define progressiveness as it is defined by a majority of this convention, and believing in harmony I want to be in harmony with the convention and desire to be more free to represent the minority sentiment. I do not say that there will be a minority report, but it would not look well for the chairman of the committee to take in a minority report. It may be necessary for me to take in a minority report. I do not know that I will, but it leaves me in an awkward position."

"We do not want and must not have a perpetual debate between the candidate and the platform," said Mr. Bryan in advocacy of his motion postponing action on the platform until after the nomination of the candidate. The only way to prevent such a result is to name your man first, indeed, in these days the man is the platform." The candidate, he argued, should have an opportunity to talk about the platform in advance of its making, rather than to feel impeled to talk against it afterward. Senator Clarke of Arkansas opposed the change, as a reversal of all precedents, but was antagonized by Senator Raynor of Maryland, who, taking sides emphatically with Mr. Bryan, said the time had come for overthrowing undesirable precedents.

Some of the Nebraskan's callers today quoted him as saying that it was useless to write a progressive platform if the conservative element should control the nomination. Bryan has been urged to write the platform, but is said to be loth to have anything to do with it until he is sure who the candidate will be. Several of his friends say the request to him to frame the party declarations is an attempt to commit him in advance to the subsequent action of the convention and to the nominee who might be willing to accept the Bryan platform. Whether the former candidate holds this view of the matter was not disclosed.

Both the Bryan and anti-Bryan factions were interested today in the "third party" gossip which is prevalent. The advent of Francis J. Heney of California, who fought for Mr. Roosevelt in the Republican convention, and Charles Crane, and their reported interview with Mr. Bryan, gave an impetus to the discussion. It was reported today that Senator La Follette was already in Baltimore or on his way here to come in touch with the possibilities of the Democratic situation. No one had been able to locate La Follette during the forenoon. Mr. Heney said he had come to Baltimore to see the Democratic "steam roller" at work; that he had become so accustomed to the "Toot, toot" at the Chicago convention that he could not sleep with it.

With the nominating sessions expected to be held tomorrow, Presidential gossip filled the air today. It seems to be admitted by all that Champ Clark will go into the convention with a distinct advantage over all the other candidates. Mr. Bryan's friends refuse to consider him out of the running and say his defeat for the temporary chairmanship was in no sense a test of what his strength would be as the Presidential nominee. The Bryan followers are hopeful that the nominating fight may go to a fourth or fifth ballot, and that in that situation many delegates would go to him.

Dark horse talk was more general today than ever. This was partly due to the fact that the New York delegation has determined to vote for Gaynor on the first ballot. The evident purpose of this is to secure a test among the candidates and something of a true line on the situation. Others interpreted it as meaning that Mayor Gaynor may be beomed for the Vice Presidency.

The Woodrow Wilson people, who stood by Mr. Bryan almost to a man in his fight for the temporary chairmanship, are expecting his support in return when it comes to nominating, and apparently base their hopes of success upon some such action. It is realized by all that the two thirds vote necessary to nominate in the convention can only be secured by a combination of some of the candidates or by a "break" or "stampede" of the delegates. The various leaders are firm in the belief that there will be no stampede and say they do not even fear Mr. Bryan himself in that respect.

OLLIE JAMES CHOSEN.

Selected for Permanent Chairman, But Secretary Woodson Beaten.

BALTIMORE, June 26.—Senator-elect Ollie James of Kentucky, at a harmony meeting of the committee on permanent organization today, was named for permanent chairman of the national convention. Urey Woodson, secretary of the national committee and long secretary of succeeding Democratic conventions, was defeated for that office by E. B. Britton, a newspaper man of Raleigh, N. C.

The choice of Mr. James was unanimous, but the roll was called on the secretaryship, Mr. Britton winning, 24 to 18. Mr. Woodson's high qualifications for the office were admitted, but the Raleigh man's friends were determined to honor him.

In the informal discussion which preceded the vote it was declared that the choice, whichever way it fell, would be without political significance. Those of the committee who remained to vote accepted this view of the situation.

A FLOOD OF ORATORY.

Convention Marking Time for Credentials Committee.

BALTIMORE, June 26.—A flood of oratory buried the delegates to the Democratic convention under rhetorical waves today. The convention marked time through the entire day's session, because the committee on credentials had not prepared its report. The convention adjourned at 2:17 to meet at 8 o'clock, to take up the problem of permanent organization and the credentials committee report, and if possible to make a nomination. It has been decided at the request of Mr. Bryan to defer the drawing of the platform until the nomination of the candidate. Senator-elect Ollie M. James of Kentucky was named as temporary chairman. Half a dozen speakers delivered typical campaign speeches at today's session.

Delegates filtered slowly into the big hall today. With but a scattered attendance on the floor at 11:30, a haze of heat seemed to fill the building and give promise of a sweltering day's proceedings. Floor and galleries decided on negligee raiment and coats were stripped off as soon as the delegates struck the close atmosphere. Hundreds of palm-leaf fans fluttered throughout the building.

Galleries and floor filled up slowly, but the sergeant-at-arms and the police had trouble keeping the aisles clear. Warned by the disorder of yesterday, Sergeant-at-arms Martin marshaled a squad of policemen and posted them in the galleries, with orders to eject any one creating a disturbance.

Some 10 minutes before noon Rt. Rev. John G. Murray of Baltimore, chaplain of the day, took his place on the platform. At 12 o'clock the galleries were less than half filled. The delegates' seats were gradually filling up, however, and the floor was in confusion. Chairman Parker had not yet appeared but National Chairman Mack was on the platform. The heat grew more intense as the big hall filled up.

At 12:31 Chairman Parker pounded his desk with the gavel and the sergeant-at-arms, aided by the police, set out to clear the aisles. Slowly the confusion subsided and the convention was under way. Bishop Murray offered prayer.

When the prayer was concluded Governor Blanchard of Louisiana reported that the credentials committee would not be ready to report until 8 p. m. He said he would not make a motion to adjourn until that time, however, as he was sure the delegates would like "a little oratory."

Former Governor Folk of Missouri was introduced as the first speaker. "The nominee of this convention will be the next President of the United States," said the speaker. Folk's speech was brief.

Senator Raynor of Maryland was next called upon. He also predicted success for the nominee and declared that the motto of the Taft faction would be "We will react and retrograde." The motto of the Roosevelt party he quited as "Thou shalt not steal." "Our motto in this campaign will be 'We shall progress,'" shouted Senator Raynor and the crowd cheered.

When Raynor concluded Chairman Parker asked for more speakers. A shout for Congressman "Tom" Heflin of Alabama went up from the floor, but Parker introduced Congressman Clayton of Alabama, chairman of the House judiciary committee. The delegates seemed to enjoy what one of them termed "a spell of spell binding."

After he had spoken several minutes in denunciation of Republican principles and predatory wealth, Mr. Clayton turned to Democratic prospects. "I do not know upon whom the nomination of this convention will fall," he said.

"Underwood" shouted an Alabama delegate.

"Clark," yelled a man from Missouri.

"Wilson" came in answering chorus from New Jersey.

"Harmon" called the Ohioans.

In a moment the entire convention hall was swept by the shouts and cheers and songs of the adherents of the different candidates. The band joined in the demonstration.

Chairman Parker made little effort to quiet the enthusiasts. Mr. Clayton stood smiling at the speaker's desk as the melody of Southern airs from the bands brought out increasing cheers.

Some of the delegates attempted to uproot the state standards, but the policemen by quick work prevented. The aisles became choked with delegates and it seemed as if many spectators had invaded the delegates' section. One man opened a big umbrella and started a parade, but was headed off.

By this time Chairman Parker and the sergeant-at-arms were making frantic efforts to restore quiet.

"New Jersey, please sit down," called a deputy sergeant-at-arms.

"Missouri, please give the speaker a chance," called another.

Mr. Clayton at last made himself heard above the din. He declared that, whoever the candidate was, he would be the next President of the United States.

State Chairman Reilly of Massachusetts was next and spoke briefly on general issues, making a plea for the betterment of labor and concluding with an endorsement of Clark.

A round of cheers greeted Senator Gore of Oklahoma, who was next called. The blind statesman was unable to proceed with his speech for some time because of the uproar. "Let us have peace," said Mr. Gore in the course of his talk. "Let us have peace at any price, at any sacrifice, save that of honor. Let us here put every Democrat under bonds to keep the peace."

A burst of applause greeted this sentiment.

"Nothing can save the Republican party from self-slaughter except Democratic suicide," declared Gore. "We cannot live half progressive and half reactionary. Theodore Roosevelt endeavored to breathe the breath of life, of modern progress, into the petrified remains of the Republican party. He failed. The mummy would not move."

Senator Gore closed with a plea for harmony which called out much enthusiasm. "Fellow-Democrats," he said, "let the candidate of this convention be your candidate."

John Temple Graves of Georgia and New York came next on the long list of orators.

Former Governor Campbell of Ohio denounced the Republican party in no uncertain terms. He was the last speaker.

An effort was made from the floor to upset the arrangement for tomorrow session for adjournment until 10 o'clock and for adjournment until 2 o'clock this afternoon. The attempt failed and at 2:17 the convention adjourned until 8 o'clock tonight.

MOVE GAINS HEADWAY.

Motion Started to Test Sentiment of Kern for the Presidency.

BALTIMORE, June 26.—A movement has been started to test the sentiment for Senator Kern of Indiana for the Presidency, as it may become impossible to nominate either Clark or Wilson. The men are working quietly, but say the move has gained headway.

A BOOM FOR FOSS.

Convention Hall Papered With an Appeal to Nominate Him.

BALTIMORE, June 26.—Friends of Governor Foss of Massachusetts "papered" the Baltimore armory this morning before the hour for the assembling with an appeal to the Democrats to nominate the Massachusetts man for the Presidency. Thousands of copies of a pamphlet giving Governor Foss's record, and a circular headed "Foss the only Democrat who can win", were distributed to catch the attention of the delegates as they arrived.

REGARDING POLICE CONTROL.

Harrison and Sullivan Attack Each Other Before Credentials Committee.

BALTIMORE, June 26.—Mayor Harrison of Chicago and Roger Sullivan, national committeeman from Illinois, indulged in counter charges before the credentials committee early today over the police control exercised at the Cook County Democratic convention. Mayor Harrison said he had detailed 285 policemen and 25 plain clothesmen to preserve order, while Mr. Sullivan charged him with planning to control the convention.

"There have been daily stories in the papers," said Mayor Harrison, "that there was to be a riot and bloodshed, and as mayor I was appealed to for police to keep order. At the recent Republican convention I was appealed to by Mr. Revell, Senator Crane, Senator Penrose, Mr. Hilles and Mr. Upham for the same protection and over 700 policemen were assigned to keep order at that gathering."

Roger Sullivan insisted on answering Mayor Harrison, although members of the committee were anxious to stop the Illinois argument.

"That is a pretty story," he said, "I want to tell this committee that Mayor Harrison's statement is incorrect. Over six weeks before the convention met they planned to try to control through John Owen, county judge."

The committee at 11:30 o'clock determined to ask the convention to adjourn until 8 this evening, owing to the inability of the committee to complete work on the contest cases. Argument in the Illinois case had not been concluded at that time.

A bitter fight was made in the Illinois contest against the rule of Roger C. Sullivan as national committeeman from that state. The Hearst-Harrison faction claimed to have carried a majority of the precincts in Chicago and to have controlled the Cook County convention. They charged that the Sullivan men had bolted that convention, but when the case of the Hearst-Harrison delegates was presented to the committee of the Peoria convention the Sullivan faction was in control and refused them seats, and the con-

AN EVENING LOVE FEAST.

Parker Forgives Bryan and Urges Him for Resolutions Chairman.

BALTIMORE, June 25.—The dove of peace hovered over the evening session of the Democratic convention, at which all of the delegates, led by Rev. W. M. Dame, rector of the Memorial Protestant Episcopal Church of this city, repeated the Lord's Prayer in unison.

The convention became a love feast just a little later, when Judge Parker said he forgave Mr. Bryan for all that the Nebraskan had said in his attack upon him, and declared it was the duty of all the delegates to do the same, and then proceeded to express a hope that every member of the committee on resolutions would vote to make Mr. Bryan its chairman.

"It is a place where he is wanted and where he is capable of rendering great service," asserted Judge Parker to the accompaniment of the uproarious cheers of the very Bryan men who earlier in the day had groaned and hissed and jeered at every mention of the temporary chairman's name.

The first session of the convention which marked the defeat of Colonel Bryan was as noisy, disorderly and turbulent an affair as has been known, perhaps, in the political history of the country. It began with every one in good humor so far as surface indications went, but soon after Cardinal Gibbons had uttered the last words of his opening prayer the lines between the Bryan and anti-Bryan forces tightened almost to the breaking point.

Mr. Bryan had an enthusiastic greeting both from the floor and the galleries when he made his first appearance and began his speech of protest against Judge Parker. He had not proceeded far, however, before interruptions began to be hurled at him.

This was a signal for further disorder, which grew and grew until the convention became bedlam. Senator Kern was accorded treatment even less courteous and thence forward no man who faced the convention was safe from cat calls and noise making. The confusion increased to such an extent that when Judge Parker had been elected and escorted to the platform, it was out of the question for him to attempt to finish his speech, but when he resumed tonight his discussion of party principles and his denunciation of the Chicago Republican convention as one of the most disgraceful exhibitions in the political history of the country, every one seemed to be not only willing to listen, but eager to applaud.

WHY BRUISES BECOME BLACK AND BLUE.

[St. Nicholas.]

The color of blood is due chiefly to iron in the little blood cells. When the iron is kept in these little blood cells, which are living and traveling around in the blood-vessels, the color is red. Hit the skin hard enough to break some of the little blood-vessels beneath the surface, and the little red cells escape from the injured blood vessels, wander about for a while in the tissues, and die. When they die the iron that made them red before then changes to black and blue coloring. After a while, this iron is taken up by the glands called the lymphatics and made over again into nice red cells. The iron is taken up much more quickly by the lymphatics if the black and blue spot is rubbed and massaged.

SCHOOL PLAYGROUNDS OPEN.

Children Eager to Try the Various Apparatus and Even the Babies Out.

The school playgrounds opened this morning for the summer, and evidently from the rush to the swings and other apparatus the children have been waiting for the day. There was no need of sending out announcements; the children were on hand. Little girls came with their younger brothers and sisters, hand in hand, to spend the morning; or in many cases sister had the baby with her in the carriage, for this year provisions have been made for little babies, in the installation of the baby swings. "What a fine group for a picture" one woman remarked as she stopped to look at three little tots, rocking back and forth.

A quantity of new apparatus has been installed at some of the grounds, and of course the children were busy this morning, trying the new slides, tilts, swings, etc. Needless to say, the opening was welcomed by the young folks, and none perhaps were more glad than the sisters, who mind the babies and finds this such a tedious job. At the playgrounds the time flies so rapidly, and baby seems to be so interested in what is going on, that it doesn't seem a bit like work.

Those in charge at the different grounds are as follows: Basin, Marlborough street, Morton Lee and Charles Underwood; Potter, the Misses Manchester; Mary Street, Miss Mary Leddy and Miss Elsie Donovan; Cranston, Miss Mildred Sampson and Stanley Ward; Lenthal, Miss Mary Flynn and Manuel Jamall. Mr. Louis R. Chase, supervisor, made a tour of all the grounds this morning to see that things were running smoothly.

EXCURSION TO NEWPORT.

Delegates to Association for Teaching Speech to the Deaf Coming Here Thursday.

The delegates attending the summer meeting of the American Association to Promote the Teaching of Speech to the Deaf, in Providence this week, will make an excursion to Newport Thursday afternoon, coming on steamer Pontiac. The party, which is expected to number about 200, will first land at Fort Adams for an inspection of the fortification and then come to Newport, landing at Sullivan's wharf. They will then take carriages for the Ocean drive, giving such as desire an opportunity to take the cliff walk, then going to Purgatory and on the return stopping at Easton's Beach for supper. The entertainment will be under the direction of the trustees of the Rhode Island Institute for the Deaf, of which ex-Mayor J. W. Horton and Dr. George D. Ramsay of this city are members.

SUNDAY SCHOOL PICNICS.

Thames Street Methodist and St. George's Churches at Island Park and "Bethshan-in-the-Woods."

The Sunday Schools of the Thames Street Methodist Episcopal and St. George's churches had their annual picnics Tuesday, the former going to Island Park and Alfred G. Vanderbilt's farm in Portsmouth and the latter to "Bethshan-in-the-Woods.

The Thames Street Church party numbered about 170 and went in special cars, first to Island Park, where an hour was pleasantly spent on the merry-go-round and other attractions, and then returning in the special cars to "Oakland Farm." Here the party went to the woods near Union street and were joined by about 50 children from St. Mary's Church, Portsmouth, and 30 from Holy Cross Church, Middletown. In the adjoining meadow there was a program of sports in which the children of the three Schools participated, under the direction of a committee consisting of Rev. William B. Bath, pastor of the Newport church; Rev. H. Newman Lawrence, acting rector of the out-of-town churches, and Messrs. Martland, Crawford and Barker, Mr. Vernon Tallman acting as director. The sports included 100-yard dash for men, 50-yard dash for girls, 50-yard dash for boys, potato races, 25-yard egg and spoon race, beanbag and base ball throwing, hop, skip and jump, hopping race for girls and sack races.

The Sunday School of St. George's went to "Bethshan-in-the-Woods" in special cars and spent the day as it pleased the individual members of the party. There were field sports for the girls and boys and a base ball game between the choir boys and other boys of the school. Luncheon was served at noon. The picnic was in charge of a committee of the Sunday School teachers.

About 25 members of the Sewing Society of Channing Church went to Mr. Anthony Stewart's farm, "Wyndelea," on the West Main road, for a picnic, taking a basket lunch and enjoying the cool breezes from the bay as well as a day in the country.

Thursday the Sunday School of the United Congregational Church will have its picnic at "Bethshan-in-the-Woods."

NEWPORT CASES IN COURT.

Hearing in Society of the Cincinnati Case, and Restraining Order Against the Water Works.

In the superior court in Providence Tuesday Presiding Justice Tanner gave a hearing on the complainants' petition for a preliminary injunction in the case of Charles Warren Lippitt and others vs. the Society of the Cincinnati in the State of Rhode Island and Providence Plantations, and the case was held for advisement. This is the petition of Mr. Lippitt and other members of the Cincinnati against the officers of the society, regarding the purchase of the Wanton house on Broadway for a home for the organization. Colonel Asa Bird Gardner, president of the Society, appeared at the hearing for the respondents and James C. Collins of Providence represented the complainants.

Judge Baker, in the superior court in Providence Tuesday, granted a restraining order against the Newport Water Works, pending a hearing to be held in Providence July 10, on the petition of Patrick H. Horgan, asking for an injunction against the company. In his bill of complaint Mr. Horgan claims that the water company threatened to shut off the water at the Aquidneck Hotel unless he paid in advance for a year, though he uses the water for only three months.

ARSENIC USED FOR CRIMINAL PURPOSES.

[London Chronicle.]

Arsenic is commonly employed by the professional poisoner in India, who will poison a whole family to make sure of one victim. The reports of the Bombay government analyst throw some light on the methods. The poison is usually given in sweetmeats, and generally by a "strange woman" who has been met in the street, and who mysteriously disappears. This "strange woman" is found in every analyst's report for the last 20 years and in circumstances so identical that it would almost seem to be the same person. Will this elusive person ever be captured by the Indian police?

Arsenic has, perhaps, been more frequently used than any other poison for criminal purposes. It has been proved identical with the "wonderful elixir" of the seventeenth century, when secret poisoning became so frequent in Italy that the clergy, despite the rules of the confessional, acquainted Pope Alexander VII in 1648 with the extent of the practice.

It was found that young widows were abundant in Rome, and that most of the unhappy marriages were speedily dissolved by the death of the husband. A secret society of young matrons was discovered, which met at the house of La Spara, a reputed witch, who supplied them with a slow, tasteless, colorless poison, carefully calculated to kill a husband in just the time that suited the purchaser. La Spara and 13 of her companions were hanged, a large number of the culprits were whipped, half-naked through the streets of Rome, while others of the highest rank escaped with heavy fines and banishment.

COST OF THE CHICAGO CONVENTION.

Subscribers to the fund to take the Republican national convention to Chicago have an unusual surprise in store for them, in that they will receive back 20 per cent of the amount advanced. The chairman of the committee says that the $100,000 subscribed was in excess of the cost by $20,000. The largest single item to be paid is $35,000 to the Coliseum company for rental and equipment.

PERSONALS.

---Mrs. Taft, wife of the President, will attend Thursday's session of the Democratic convention. She will be the guest of Mrs. Wallace, wife of a delegate from the state of Washington.

---Alfred Lincoln Seligman of New York, a retired banker and the youngest brother of Isaac N. Seligman, head of the financial house of J. & W. Seligman & Co., was instantly killed in an automobile collision at West End avenue in that city Monday evening.

---Governor Woodrow Wilson was playing golf at the Spring Lake Golf and Country Club, Seagirt, N. J., when word reached him of the selection of Judge Parker as temporary chairman of the Democratic national convention. He declined to talk regarding the result of the polling.

---Fifty thousand dollars has been given St. Paul's School, Concord, N. H., for the erection and equipment of an infirmary. The gift is made by Mr. and Mrs. George Armour of Princeton, N. J., in memory of their son Edmund, who died recently, while a student at the school. The institution is to be known as the Edmund Armour Memorial Infirmary.

FOR LIGHT REFRESHMENTS.

Three Menus—Layer Sandwiches, Nut Salads and Fruit Punches.

Breakfast Breads—Coffee Cake, Rice Muffins, Oatmeal Scones and Potato Biscuit.

[Cornelia C. Bedford.]

1.

Layer Sandwiches — Nut Salad
Small Charlottes — Fancy Wafers
Coffee — Fruit Punch

2.

Creamed Sweetbreads and Mushrooms
Roasted Almond Sandwiches
Orange Ice — Fancy Cakes
Coffee — Tea

3.

Clam Bouillon
Finger Rolls
Mock Foie Gras Filling
Jellied Lobster Salad
Apricot Ice — Fancy Wafers
Coffee — Tea

For layer sandwiches have loaves of white and graham or entire wheat bread two days old; trim off all crust, then prepare by spreading the end of the loaf with soft butter or mayonnaise dressing and cutting off in thin slices until the requisite amount has been cut. Have ready two kinds of meat or one kind and some pounded nuts—any two kinds of filling that you prefer—but be sure that they harmonize. On a slice of the spread brown bread put a thin layer of one kind of filling, cover with a slice of white bread, add some of the other kind of filling and cover with a slice of the brown bread. Prepare a number in this way then reverse the order—the outer slices white, the central one brown. Any number of these may be prepared and, if desired, several different sets of fillings may be used. Have them firmly pressed together, then cut in triangles or other fancy shapes.

The nut salad will require one pint of shelled English walnut meats to each pint of unsweetened lemon jelly; also if to be had, one-half cupful of pistachio nuts chopped fine. Boil the walnut meats for 10 minutes in salted water to which is added one bay leaf and one slice of onion. Drain and rinse repeatedly that they may be well blanched, then keep in cold water until needed. Mold the nuts and jelly; individual molds are best, but this is usually impossible when a large number of people are to be provided for; in such case use shallow pans, turning out carefully and cutting in neat, small squares. When serving put a spoonful of white mayonnaise on top of each service and dust with the pistachio nuts. To whiten the mayonnaise mix with it one third of its bulk of stiffly whipped cream.

A good fruit punch is made by boiling together for 15 minutes one quart of water and one pint of canned grated pineapple. Strain and add a syrup made by boiling together for 10 minutes one quart of water and two pounds of sugar. Now add one pint of hot freshly drawn green tea, the juice of six oranges and six lemons. Set aside until cold, then add one pint of grape juice and five quarts of water and serve with a lump of ice in the punch bowl.

As a filling for the sandwiches in the second menu shell almonds, put the meats in a bowl, pour over sufficient boiling water to cover; let stand for a moment then drain, cover a second time with boiling water and let stand for about five minutes. Drain and remove the brown skins, which can be slipped off like a glove. Spread on pans and stand in a moderate oven; it is best to keep the door partly open as they quickly change color. Sift and shake from time to time that they may dry evenly and as soon as they are pale straw color take out. When cool chop fine. In using mix them with mayonnaise or very thick cream.

To make a delightful mock pate de foie gras filling take one pound of calves liver, place in a saucepan with one bay leaf, two sprigs of parsley and six cloves. Cover with boiling water, add a half-teaspoonful of salt and a dozen peppercorns and simmer gently for two hours. Set off and when cool cut the liver in thin slices; place in a bowl, strain the broth over it and let stand over night. Next morning take out the meat and pound to a pulp, adding gradually four ounces of butter which has been beaten to a cream. Press all through a sieve, add more salt if needed, pack in a glass jar and keep closely covered and very cold until used.

Breakfast Coffee Cake—Beat well together two eggs; add one cupful of milk, a half teaspoonful of salt, one tablespoonful of sugar and sufficient sifted flour to make a thick drop batter. In the shallow baking pan melt one heaping tablespoonful of shortening—butter, lard or the two mixed. Grease sides and bottom then pour the remainder into the batter and beat hard. Last of all add two teaspoonfuls of baking powder and beat again then pour into the pan. Bake about twenty five minutes in a hot oven.

Every Day Muffins—Use the same recipe as for coffee cake. Grease deep muffin cups or tins, fill two thirds with the batter and bake twenty minutes in a quick oven.

Rice Muffins—Use same recipe as above. Add to the beaten eggs and milk one scant cupful of cold boiled rice, beating well to remove any lumps. Finish as for plain muffins.

Oatmeal Scones—To one cupful of well cooked oatmeal add one cupful of milk, stirring until thoroughly mixed. Then add a pinch of salt, two teaspoonfuls of sugar, one tablespoonful of melted butter and one cupful of flour mixed with two teaspoonfuls of baking powder. Now add as much more flour as is necessary to make a soft dough. Roll out an inch thick and cut in rounds or squares. Bake on a well greased griddle. Serve with butter and orange marmalade.

Potato Biscuit—Boil some potatoes which have been pared the night before. When done put through the ricer into a bowl. Beat, adding to each pint three tablespoonfuls of rich sweet cream, a scant teaspoonful of salt and a scant tablespoonful of melted butter. Lightly add just enough sifted flour to make them hold together. Roll out quickly half an inch thick. Cut in small squares and bake on a well greased griddle.

Johnny Cake—Scald one pint of milk in a double boiler. Sift in two thirds of a cupful of corn meal which has been mixed with one teaspoonful and a half of salt. Stir until just thick enough to be creamy, not at all thick or stiff, then take off quickly. Drop in the beaten yolks of four eggs, beating hard. Add the stiffly beaten whites, turn instantly into a shallow well greased pan and bake about half an hour in a hot oven.

Rye Muffins—Sift together three cupfuls of rye flour, one cupful of corn meal, one teaspoonful each of salt and sugar and two teaspoonfuls of baking powder. In a cupful of boiling water melt one scant tablespoonful of butter, add to it three cupfuls of cold milk and stir into the dry mixture. Last add four well beaten eggs, beat hard and fill greased muffin tins two thirds full. Bake half an hour in a hot oven.

A SONG FROM THE SEA.

[Evelyn Marie Stuart in Life.]

Come, pretty maid, in my beautiful boat,
And sail on the wonderful sea.
Bright skies are smiling, and storms are remote—
I've the best craft that was e'er put afloat,
And there is no captain like me.

My mate is a lover that's handsome and bold;
No baggage you'll need, save your heart.
Bread, cheese and kisses are stored in the hold,
With just a wee handful of sil'er and gold,
That's all we'll need for a start.

Love is my name, life is the sea,
And the name of the good ship is Matrimony,
Come, little maid, and go sailing with me.

"I suppose you have tried motoring, Judge?" he asked.

"No, I have not," replied the judge, "but I've tried a lot of people who have."—[Yonkers Statesman.

"Didn't you tell me you bought a lot at Mosquito beach?"

"I did."

"How deep is it?"

"About three feet at high water."—

Blobbs—I heard Tightwad boasting today that he had money to burn.

Slobbs—Well, I wouldn't be in any hurry to call out the fire department if I were you.—[Philadelphia Record.

Alice—So Maud is divorced. I knew when she married in such haste that she would repent at leisure.

Kate—Oh, there's no repentance in her case; she gets $200 a month alimony.—[Boston Transcript.

First Theatrical Manager—That comedian of yours is one of the funniest fellows I ever saw.

Second Theatrical Manager—Yes, he made me laugh this morning till I nearly died. Came around and actually wanted his salary.—[Philadelphia Record.

Georgia Lawyer—Well, Ras, so you want me to defend you. Have you any money?

Rastus—No; but I'se got a mule, and a few chickens, and a hog or two.

Lawyer—Those will do very nicely. Now, let's see; what do they accuse you of stealing?

Rastus—Oh, a mule, and a few chickens, and a hog or two.—[Life.

HAMILTON FISH MARRIED.

Weds Mrs. Florence Delapaine Ansinck of New York Before Relatives and Friends.

Surrounded by a small company of relatives and close friends, Mrs. Florence Delapaine Ansinck, widow of Gustav Ansinck, was married Tuesday at her home in New York to Mr. Hamilton Fish, son of the late Hamilton Fish, Secretary of the Treasury under President Grant, and himself at one time Assistant Secretary of the Treasury. Rev. Dr. William M. Grosvenor, dean of the Cathedral of St. John the Divine, officiated.

The foyer hall and the salons on the second floor were beautifully decorated. The bride and bridegroom stood under a canopy of smilax, white roses and peonies in the front salon, in which the mantels were banked with American Beauty roses. The breakfast was served by Sherry at a circular table, in the centre of which was a mound of pink rambler roses.

In the family circle which witnessed the ceremony were Mr. and Mrs. William Lawrence Breese of San Mateo, Cal., the latter the daughter of the bridegroom; Mr. and Mrs. John Cutler of Boston, Mrs. Cutler being another daughter of Mr. Fish; Misses Janet and Helena Fish and Mr. Hamilton Fish, Jr., the bridegroom's three other children. Mr. Stuyvesant Fish, brother of the bridegroom; Mrs. Fish, Mrs. Albert Z. Gray, a niece of the bridegroom; Mrs. George F. Schieffelin, sister of the bride; Miss Dorothy Schieffelin, Mr. and Mrs. George R. D. Schieffelin and Mr. and Mrs. Henry G. Trevor.

Mr. and Mrs. Fish will leave for Europe July 2. After visiting London and Paris they will occupy the Villa Ansinck, on the shores of Lake Como. The villa and a residence at Hamburg were inherited by the bride from her late husband.

The first husband of Mrs. Fish was Mr. James Hude Beekman. Mr. Ansinck, her second husband, died a few years ago. The first wife of Mr. Fish, who was Miss Julia Mann, died many years ago.

BRYAN'S REVERSE.

The temporary chairmanship of the Democratic convention was offered to Bryan as the last Presidential candidate of the party, and declined by him. Then it was offered to the next preceding candidate, the only other living. At once Bryan broke out into violent denunciation of Parker. Having failed to terrorize the committee, he carried the fight into the convention. Having failed to find any one else to be a candidate against Parker, he became the candidate himself. The issue of Brynism could not have been more clearly presented to the convention and the result was its defeat. Parker was elected over Bryan by an ample though not an overwhelming majority. Bryan suffered his first reverse at the hands of his own party in 16 years.

There were two reasons for attacking Parker. One was that, like Governor Harmony he is a "gold-bug." When Bryan is a candidate for the Presidency he says that silverism is no longer an issue; he desires a united party to vote for him. When he is not a candidate he resurrects the silver issue and fights every Democrat who have ever supported the single gold standard. He did not wish a united party when Parker was the candidate, for he was determined that where he had failed no one else should succeed. He fought Parker for months before the convention and until after the nomination was made and the convention had adjourned. Afterward he went around the country purporting to support the ticket, but his long fight against Parker before the convention and in it had made sure that a large part of the silverites would knife him, and they did so. Bryan is personally and solely responsible for the fact that a million and a half Democratic voters did not support the judge.

Bryan had another and more immediate object in attacking Parker. He has been saying that he was not a candidate for the nomination. There are no delegates instructed for him. The delegates are divided among several other candidates. If Bryan could impress the convention at the outset with the conviction that he possessed his old power in his party the first ballot or two might not result in a nomination. Then would be the psychological moment for springing the "peerless leader" on the convention with every prospect of success. For four years ago there were plenty of Democrats who believed it hopeless to nominate him but did not dare oppose him because they feared it would hurt them with their own people. If Bryan could muster strength enough to beat the national committee in its selection of a temporary chairman a profound impression would be made on the minds of uninstructed delegates and many others would feel that Bryan was to be the nominee and they would better not delay very long in joining his procession.

Partly to satisfy his thirst for revenge upon the gold-standard Democrats—though Parker did not support Palmer and Buckner and is understood to have voted for Bryan in 1896 and 1900—and partly to assert his domination over the party, Bryan made his attack on Parker and he was thoroughly beaten.

It would be premature to say what this indicates as to the actual selection which will be made, but it makes it extremely unlikely that the convention can be stampeded for Bryan. For the first time there is a majority in a Democratic convention which dares to stand up and oppose Bryan—not only oppose Bryan's representative, but oppose Bryan himself when he puts himself forward for the express purpose of testing his strength.

The convention can now proceed to the selection of a candidate without the Bryan cloud overhanging it. Doubtless there are many hot admirers of the Nebraskan in the gathering, and it is not unlikely that an effort will yet be made, if a nomination should not be made promptly, to give him a fourth chance to lead his party to defeat. But the charm of his invincibility in his party has been broken. He has forced its issue himself. He has seized the earliest opportunity of proving to the convention that more than half the delegates dare to oppose him to his face, and the prospects of securing two thirds of the convention to make him again the candidate cannot appear brilliant even to himself.

INTEGRATION AND DISINTEGRATION.

Integration of industries is a comparatively new word, familiar perhaps in the steel trade but not to the general public. It has a less offensive sound than such words as "trust," "merger" and "combine." Besides, it stands for a different thing, though the representatives of the Steel Corporation in the present hearing would like to give the impression that the justification of integration was also a justification of combination.

The attorney for the Steel Corporation asked a witness: "What is integration, then, as you know it?" The reply was: 'The process of collecting under one management the means of production and manufacture of raw material from the beginning to the fabricated product." In reply to another question he said: "Any company not controlling raw material may be placed at a disadvantage during periods of severe competition."

Andrew Carnegie is the foremost exponent of integration as here described. He was almost always a competing force. That is why he refused to go into the Steel Corporation and why the Morgan interests paid him a high price to go out of the business. He did not try to absorb concerns competing with him, but to secure control of the raw materials on the one hand and the manufacture of the finished product on the other, so that he would be dependent upon no one for the supply of his materials or the marketing of his product. The combination policy, on the other hand, seeks to suppress competition by merging establishments producing goods of the same sort.

The effort of the government in the trust dissolution suits is to disintegrate them, but not in the sense of the opposite of integration. It is to disintegrate them into the component parts of the combination, rather than to separate the concerns which are carrying on the successive stages of manufacture. Integration as defined at the hearing does not suppress competition, but it does reduce costs. It makes the manufacturers of finished goods independent in the matter of their supplies and is favorable to the interests of the consumers.

GRADE CROSSING ACCIDENTS.

At every accident at a grade crossing of railroad tracks there is a loud demand for the abolition of such crossings of highways, but in its full extension this is impracticable. It is attained nearly or entirely in England, but that is small, densely populated country, where there are fewer crossings than here and greater need for keeping track and road on different levels.

In our cities and suburbs the grade crossings are going fast. In Philadelphia the Reading railroad and the city together are spending more than $7,000,000,000 to elevate the tracks. In Chicago the grade crossings have been removed by track elevations which have cost many millions. In Brooklyn and its neighborhood hundreds are in process of removal. Much has been accomplished already and the rest of the work will be done in a few years.

In the country the need of removing the crossings is small, because traffic on the highways is light and the cost of raising the tracks or lowering the highways is a serious matter. The farmers are eager that the railroad companies should elevate their tracks, but are not disposed to incur any of the expenses themselves.

Few accidents occur at crossings which are not plainly the result of carelessness of drivers. Some crossings are worse than others. Some occur in cuts or on curves, where but little of the track can be seen until the driver on the highway is on the track, but a train does not approach silently; it is very noisy. If the traveler on the highway would take reasonable care as he approached the track he could hear a train even if he could not see it. Engine drivers are pretty faithful in sounding whistle or bell in approaching a crossing. Every such spot is marked by a sign, so that no one comes upon a track without warning. There is little excuse for carriage or automobile to be driven on a track when a train is approaching.

Bryan secured enough votes in the Democratic convention to make him a factor to be considered in the work still before the delegates. The opposition expected to have 700 votes for their candidate for temporary chairman and fell 176 short of that number. Bryan, like Roosevelt, is not a man to give up after one defeat, and will be heard from until the nominations are made. It requires a two-thirds vote to win in the Democratic convention and no candidate has as yet anything like a sufficient number to give him the prize.

The Rhode Island delegates to the Republican convention say that, in their opinion, Colonel Roosevelt went to Chicago with the intention of trying to take the convention by Rough Rider methods if other plans were not successful and that his failure to call for strong-arm tactics was due solely to the refusal of his lieutenants to follow him in such a move. It looked a good deal that way, at this distance.

Colonel Roosevelt and his associates will take no further definite steps in the work of organizing the new "Progressive" party until after the Baltimore convention. They are hoping that there will be some dissatisfied Democrats after the nominations are made, who will join the new party. The Roosevelt leaders need all the help they can secure.

The strike of the New York hotel waiters, begun a month ago, has been abandoned, the men having voted unanimously to end the contest. They have gained none of their demands, and must take their chances with new men in securing their old places.

American flags after July 4 will have 48 stars, representing that number of states in the Union. Arizona and New Mexico, although full-fledged states for several months, cannot be represented by stars in the flag until July 4 following their admission.

Clark and O'Gorman is the combination most talked for the Democratic ticket. The New York delegation evidently has enough strength in the convention to secure what it desires and, as usual, is out for trades.

The American athletes are on the final stage of their journey to Stockholm and as "fit as a fiddle" for the Olympic games next week.

Bryan in the role of "harmonizer" at Baltimore is the biggest joke of a decidedly humorous political season.

PERMANENT MOTOR MUSEUM.

Founded in West End of London to Illustrate Progress of Automobile Industry.

Great interest has been aroused in this country as well as abroad in the recent opening, in the fashionable West End of London, of the permanent Motor Museum founded by the English automobile journal, "Motor." It is intended that in time the museum shall be a treasure house of historical motor cars, motor-cycles and accessories, and a good start in this direction has already been made.

The wonderful progress of the automobile industry could not be better illustrated than it is in this British collection—unless some one should found a similar American Museum, as enthusiasts have suggested should be done. Such an American collection might, indeed, put the British exhibit in second place. For the most notable relic the Londoners have is the "Blue Belle" steamer, which is hardly a motor car at all in the modern sense; and a French car of 1891 is the oldest specimen of the present-day type of automobile, spoken of by English writers as "the oldest in the world," though there is said to be in the Smithsonian Institution's collection in Washington an American car dating back to the same year.

If the plan proposed for establishing an American Motor Museum comes to fruition the United States will be able to make, from the work of its own inventors, as good a showing of antiquities as London's, which are drawn from all over the world. It is safe to say that the stages of progress in automobile building can be even more interestingly illustrated by American cars than by foreign.

The American motor car, from the first workable gasoline, which J. Frank Duryea brought out in 1891, has, it is fair to say, progressed faster than the European. No other industry in this country of astonishing industrial achievements, even, has had such spectacular growth or has made such startling progress as motor car building. Nor has it by any means been a matter of simply going on from the work of foreign inventors. The American motor car is in many respects a distinct creation; the unit power-plant and three-point support, for instance (both Duryea inventions) have had their influence on the continental designers. Almost from the days of the "Duryea Wagon" American cars have competed sharply with the European in their own countries, till now there is an export business which makes the foreign builders decidedly uncomfortable.

UNITED STATES IMPORTS TO CANADA LARGER.

The Canadian trade and commerce department reports trade figures for April, the first month of the current fiscal year. This return shows an enormous increase in imports from the United States. They were $32,165,742, a gain of $10,218,601 over April 1911. Canada's April imports from Great Britain were only $8,218,125, a gain of $2,276,897. Exports to the United States were $7,980,636, a gain of $2,500,000. Exports to Great Britain were $5,653,477, a gain of less than $1,000,000.

A PRINCE KNOCKS ROYALTY.

[Boston Transcript.]

The Royal Academy portrait of Prince Edward of Wales shows him to be quite a young man. How he has grown. It is scarcely more than half a decade since he perpetrated a genuine and delicious "howler." "Who was Perkin Warbeck?" his tutor had asked. "Perkin Warbeck," answered Eddie, "was a pretender. He pretended he was the son of a king, but he wasn't; he was the son of respectable parents."

PORTSMOUTH.

Children's Day Observed by Concerts of Music and Recitations.

Elaborate Floral Decorations at the Friends', Christian and Methodist Churches.

(Regular correspondence of The News.)

Children's day was observed at the Friends' Church by a concert of music and recitations. There was a good attendance to view the decorations of mountain laurel, ferns, roses, peonies, deutzias and other brilliant colored flowers. The entire house was open and there were masses of flowers arranged on both platforms and the organ and mantels, with daisies and ferns on the chandeliers. At the close of the exercises Mr. Oscar Levins presented the pastor, Rev. James M. Estes, and Mrs. Estes, an envelope containing a sum of money from some of the members. They left town early this morning to attend the New England Yearly Meeting of Friends, held this year at Vassalboro, Maine.

The program was as follows: Opening chorus, "Come With Rejoicing;" responsive Scripture reading; prayer by pastor, Rev. James M. Estes; song "It is Children's day" by the school; recitation, "Children's Day Greeting," Katherine Boyd; song by primary class, "Happy Little Children;" recitations, "Welcome All," Lois Slocum and "Helping God's plan" Alice Marz; duet and chorus, "Sing Jehovah's Praise," by Mrs. William Lawrence and Miss Marguerite Holman; recitation "Only a Dream," Annie Griffin; solo and chorus "Like the River," Mr. Carey; recitations, "What we Gave," by Charles Cory, Gladys Poor, Mary Washington and Annie Griffin; "Signs of our Father's Care," Flora Chace; song, "Garlands of Praise" by school; recitations "In the Garden of the Heart," Mary Washington; "Twinkle Little Star," Herman Chase; exercise "The Blossoms Band" by Jennie Griffin, Arthur Lawrence, Phebe Anthony, Lois Slocum and Clarence Ruggles; duet, "Kind Words, Miss Larned of Fall River and Miss M. Finis Macomber; recitations "Purple Pansy," Edna Griffin; "If you would be happy," Theodore Poor; duet and chorus, "Thy Name I'll sing," Flora Chace and Annie Griffin; recitations, "While Life's Summer Days go by," Gladys Poor; "What we can do," Charles Macomber; "The Earth is the Lord's," Samuel Washington; song, "Feast of Gladness," by school; recitations, "Drive the Dark Clouds Away," Jennie Griffin; "If you have a Message," Daniel Crowther; song, "The Children's Day is over," by school; offering and benediction by pastor.

The decorations for Children's day at the Christian Church were elaborate. The wall back of the platform was covered with a sheet of ferns, arranged in such a way as to make them look like intricate designs of lace work. Across the centre of the sheet the words, "Children's Day" was made by letters of daisies. Roses, peonies, lilies, mock orange and syringa were arranged to bank the platform, tables and one corner where the desk stood. The edge of the platform was encircled with ferns and every available space was filled with flowers, the designs being wrought out as by an artist. There was a large attendance and the following was the program for the occasion:

Organ voluntary, Mrs. Belle Tallman; singing, "Praise Ye Jehovah," by school; Scripture reading by Mrs. Alonzo E. Borden, the superintendent; prayer by the pastor, Rev. Mr. Loucks; singing, "Gloria Patri" by school; "Greeting," Alice Conway; song, "In pleasant ways" by school; recitations, "A Soldier," Thomas White, and one by Lillian Sisson; duet, "Children's Prayer," by Stuart Purcell and Alfred Sherman; song, "While we are Waiting for the King," by school; recitations, "One Glad Time," Margaret Paquin; "I want to tell you," Stuart Purcell; "Soldier Boy," Alfred Sherman; song, "Clover drill," by four girls—Alice and Mary Coggeshall, Alice Conway and Mary Paquin; recitation, "He had no Children's Day," Edmund White; song, "Hozanna!" by school; recitations, "Our Day," by John Paquin; "Little friends," Alice and Mary Coggeshall; duet, "Sunshine in the Heart," Mrs. Warren R. Sherman and Mrs. Charles Grinnell; recitations, "Why is it?" Mary Paquin; "Why we have Children's Day," Mildred Bishop; song, "Blooming Roses," eight girls; recitation, "What was it meant for?" Carlotta Coggeshall; song by school, "Ring, Bells of Heaven;" recitation, "Offering," Earl Sherman; song, "Cheerful Giving," by four boys; song, "Smile," by school; closing song, "God be With You Till we Meet Again," by all.

The Children's Day concert of the Methodist Episcopal Church, which had been postponed from the previous Sunday, was held last Sunday evening. There had been considerable indecision about holding one at all on account of so many children being sick with the measles, but when decided upon all took hold of the matter in earnest, the floral decorations being fine and except in numbers the concert was fully up to the average.

The opening song was, "Lo, the World with Welcome Waits;" responsive Scripture reading; prayer; anthem by choir, "That Beautiful Land;" recitations, "Children's Day," Ruth Hedly; "A Rose in every Garden," Elsie Spooner; exercise "The Little Busy Bees," by four little girls; song, "The Hills of Light;" recitations, "In Times Gone By," Marjorie Borden; "I tried to count my Blessings," Eva Hedly; "Children and Flowers," Mattie Ashley; remarks by pastor, and collection; song, "The Breeze of the Morn;" recitation, "The Love of Jesus," Emily Chace; exercise "Stepping Stones to Success;" song, "In teh Festal Days;" recitation, "The Flowers," Eleanor Matthews; exercise in song "The Brook;" recitation, "Rain or Shine," Howard Borden; song, "O Dreaming Flowers;" recitation, "The Baby's Rose," Alice Marshall; flower drill by five girls; remarks by Mr. Frank Wadsworth of Winthrop, Maine; song, "Eventide."

Mr. Earl Grenville Sherman, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. John Sherman and grandson of the late Robert A. Sherman, all of this town, was married in the Cathedral in Providence Monday, July 10, to Miss Katherine Wallace. The bride was gowned in white lace and carried a large bouquet of white roses. They were attended by the bride's sister, Miss Margaret Wallace of Providence, and the groom's brother, Mr. Lester Sherman of Portsmouth. Only the immediate families were present, which on the groom's side included his father, mother and brother. A wedding breakfast was served and Mr. and Mrs. Sherman began housekeeping at once in the home which had been made ready for them.

Mr. and Mrs. Oliver G. Pierce, who were recently married, have gone to housekeeping on Everett street, Newport.

Mrs. John F. Chase is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Rufus Bennett, at Bridgewater.

Miss Ruth Elizabeth Brown and Miss Sarah Louise Gray of the Vaucluse school were graduated from the ninth grade, Mumford school, Newport, and expect next year to enter the Rogers High School.

Mr. David Wallace Brawley, son of Mr. and Mrs. George G. Brawley, and Miss Gladys Hall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Hall, were graduated from the Rogers High School.

Mrs. Philip Wilbor, who has been away from home for some weeks on account of ill health, has returned, much improved.

Mrs. Sumner Clarke of Skowhegan, Maine, is spending a few weeks with Miss Susan Chase on Oliphant lane. Miss Chase is in poor health.

Mrs. Ida Hathaway is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Edward Caswell in Slocum.

Mrs. Maud Dale and the two youngest of her four children are spending a week in Boston.

Mr. and Mrs. George Eldredge, and their son George of Philadelphia are visiting Mr. Eldredge's brother, Mr. John M. Eldredge, at Bristol Ferry.

Mr. Norman P. Barker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin B. Barker of Island Park, who has been seriously ill at his home, is slowly recovering.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Levins, who have been living in the house of Mrs. Hannah Cook on Power street, which she has just sold to Mr. Charles E. Harvey, have moved to the house on Lehigh hill belonging to Mr. Frank W. Greene. Mr. Harvey will soon take possession of his new home and his former one, which he sold to Mr. J. Frank Chase, will be occupied by Mr. John Hayes, foreman of outside work of the Rhode Island Coal Company, and his family, who have been living opposite Eureka hall in one of Mr. Benjamin Hall's houses.

The rosebugs, which are unusually thick this year, are eating the young peaches, sometimes 15 or 20 being on one peach. They eat both the fruit and the leaves.

Miss Gertrude Baxter of the McCorrie school was the only one of the number from Portsmouth who took the examinations for the Rogers High School this year who passed.

BUSINESS FOR THE COUNCIL.

Besides the Fleet and Beach Appropriations Many Other Matters to Come Up.

The Representative Council will meet this evening in response to the call of the Board of Aldermen, to take action in regard to the equipment of piers for the landing of sailors from the ships, for which about $1,600 is needed or may be needed. Part of this is for floats, part for lighting the five landing places secured and part for playgrounds for the sailors, according to the plans suggested at the meeting of the Board of Aldermen, which will be outlined in the report to the Council.

In addition, there is the request of the beach company for $1,200 additional for buildings, which the board has recommended to the Council, to enable it to act. The resolution calls for $2,500, but of this $1,300 is already appropriated and will not be required. This will therefore revert back to the treasury.

A resolution for the appointment of a committee to consider an equalization of the salaries of city officers, will also come up. This was offered at the last meeting of the Council, but was not allowed to come in.

Mr. Sullivan has a resolution for the appointment of a committee of five to look into the matter of the high price charged for city water, the high price charged for gas and the poor quality of gas furnished, the high price charged for electric light, the need of an extension of the street car lines to Carroll avenue or Old Fort road and of shelters at the ends of the street car lines, and if after investigation it is found that action should be taken in any or all of these cases, in the interest of the public, that the matter before the state public utilities commission with a request for action by that commission in the interests of the citizens of Newport. It is suggested that $2,000 be given this committee for its investigation.

A resolution from the Park Commission will ask $500 additional for filling in at the King boulevard.

A resolution asking for $1,000 for additional policemen during the summer has the endorsement of the chief of police and of Mayor Boyle. This is to relieve the regular officers from some of the extra work which has been found necessary.

Officer Weaver asks for $192 for time he was incapacitated from service, which cannot be paid him by the regular appropriation. This is in addition to the usual allowance made an officer who is off duty on account of sickness.

The application of Edward K. Stevens, administrator of the estate of Marin K. Fitts, that the city accept the balance left in the estate for the fountain of a horse, was referred to the Council by the Board of Aldermen, as there were not sufficient funds in the estate to care for a horse and it is a question what can be done.

The claim of James Gordon for damages sustained in his house from the overflow of the sewer during the storms of March 9 and 17, last, when his cellar was flooded from the Levin street sewer will come up.

There are two petitions for refunding of taxes overpaid or paid twice, resolutions for a fire alarm box at the beach and for curbing and macadamizing part of Prescott Hall road, and there will be other business calling for extra appropriations if the Council will permit their introduction.

The Council will again have an opportunity to order the issuance of two notes for the payment of the award for the buildings at the beach. It has already done this, but before the Council had a right to authorize the issuing of the notes, and so it will need to be done again.

The Council will know just what the income of the city is to be from taxes, since the bottom line has been reached.

Mr. and Mrs. Morris of Philadelphia have arrived for the season.

FINISH SET OF MATCHES.

Rogers High School Tennis Team Victorious Over Officers at Naval Training Station.

The Rogers High School tennis team today finished a set of matches with the officers at the Naval Training Station, Rogers was victorious, taking five out of nine, two doubles and three singles.

The first matches were played last week and were finished Tuesday. The day of play saw three matches, two doubles and a single. L. H. Hobbs and F. M. Lee, Rogers, defeated the first station pair in doubles, 6-0, 6-3, 6-4, 6-3. The Sherman brothers, Rogers, defeated the second station pair, 6-3, 6-3, 6-2. In the singles J. S. Brown, Jr., won from Lieutenant Commander Johnston, 6-2, 6-1, 5-2.

The second day of play saw five single matches and one doubles, B. H. Sherman, Rogers, defeated Major Dunlap, 6-4, 6-4. C. L. Sherman, Rogers, defeated Surgeon Owens, 6-0, 6-1. Paymaster Chew, Station, defeated W. N. Sayer, 6-0, 6-0. F. M. Lee, Rogers, defeated Surgeon Owens, 6-4, 3-6, 6-3. Lieutenant Commander Johnston, Station, defeated A. C. Baker, 6-1, 6-1. In the doubles Lieutenant Commander Johnston and Major Dunlap defeated the Sherman brothers, 6-4, 4-6, 8-6.

HOW THE CLEAN-UP BOYS WERE "TREATED."

Although "clean-up day" has gone by, some things transpired that morning of which no mention has been made, but which ought to be of interest as showing the spirit with which the boys were received on their round of visits in the different neighborhoods. When "John the Greek" saw the squad at work on Long wharf he thought so well of the idea that he treated the whole gang in his restaurant. Incidentally Colonel Shaw, who had charge of the Long wharf squad, also furnished a treat. At another place the man said if they would clean out a certain narrow alleyway, which was too small for him to crawl into, he would treat them all to ice cream sodas. The alley was cleaned in a short time and the boys had their treat.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

—Mr. D. R. Morse has gone to New York.

—Mr. George H. Sherman has returned from a visit to Boston, Kingston and other places.

—Steamer Mount Hope is doing much better business on her Block Island trips this year than last.

—Mr. and Mrs. Edward S. Rawson have arrived at their residence, "Avnion," on Ocean avenue.

—Major Frederick L. Bullard and family of New York have arrived at Cottage No. 9, Renfrew Park, for the season.

—The slate for the steps to the engineer office in the Savings Bank building has at length arrived and the steps are being put in.

—Captain Joseph P. Cotton has returned from Richfield, Conn., where he was guest at the summer home of his son, Mr. Joseph P. Cotton, Jr.

—The wharves have received their annual coat of dustoline. Apparently the tracking from the wharves this year is greater than ever before.

—DeBlois & Eldridge have rented Pinard Cottage No 6, Narragansett avenue and Annandale road, to John Sanford of New York for the season.

—Steamer City of Lowell will make an excursion from New London to Newport July 4, arriving at 12:45 and leaving at 2:45. Connections will be made by rail as far as Norwich.

—Mr. Charles D. Dudley is in Baltimore, attending the Democratic convention. Misses Edith and Ruth Dudley have also gone to Baltimore, where they will spend the summer.

—The torpedo boat destroyers comprising the fourth group of the Atlantic torpedo fleet, Lieutenant Commander John M. Luby commanding, which have been at Bangor, Maine, returned here today.

—The police report this morning was three cases of drunkenness. All were minus the necessary cash to settle and so went to jail. A man charged with non-support promised to do better and was placed on probation.

—The consolidated excursion of the Methodist churches of Providence arrived here, 1,200 strong, on the Warwick this morning. Cars were waiting on Franklin street, which was blocked, and the party was taken to the beach.

—There was what might have been a serious shock to those who believe in following old habits and doing things as they have been done in the past, at the City hall Tuesday. One of the regular window cleaning trust was at work cleaning the windows.

—There is such a thing as being conservative, and The News thermometer at 2:10 this afternoon would register only 73 in the shade, while others were marking 79, 80 and 81. One feels that it must be 90 if he is out of the draft, while in the wind the feeling is comfortable. It is no longer winter, it is summer.

—A bicycle was stolen from the rear of Dr. Terry's estate Tuesday. It was found near Leonard's laundry out in the swamp district and has been returned to the owner. It is supposed that a Portuguese took it for a ride home. If he was caught it would mean that his case would go to the grand jury and it would fare badly with him.

—The registration at the closing of the City Hall Tuesday evening was 82 for the day and $25 for the year. This is behind the record of last year. The city clerk's office is open daily and evenings, and every one who has not already registered can easily put his name on before Saturday night if he tries. They will all want to vote next November, no matter how they feel now.

The Rhode Island delegates to the Democratic national convention have been appointed on the following committees: David J. Barry, credentials; John J. Fitzgerald, platform and resolutions; David J. Barr, permanent organization; James Hennessey, rules; Peter G. Gerry, to notify the nominee for President; Patrick J. Boyle, to notify the nominee for Vice President.

—Messrs. William D. Sheffield, Jr., and Edward J. Corcoran of this city are in camp at Quonset Point with Battery A, light field artillery, Rhode Island National Guard, of which they are members. In the first day's competition of harnessing mounted, for a prize offered by the battery commander, Private Sheffield harnessed his pair of horses in the quickest time, six minutes and 55 seconds, the next competitor being five seconds behind.

—There was an automobile-bicycle collision on Thames street at Milburn court Tuesday afternoon, and as might be expected the bicycle had the short end of it, one wheel being smashed. It seems to have been a case of turning across the street without warning and of the automobile coming up unsuspectingly. However, the automobile driver stopped to see what had been done. It was an accident so far as he was concerned and he did not run away.

—The big turbine dynamo went down Thames street this morning about 5:30, when there was an unobstructed roadbed, and it needed about all the road there was. It was foggy Tuesday night and Mr. Dugan decided, after loading the turbine on his big 35-ton low gear to postpone the trip until this morning, when it was made without trouble. It took only six horses to draw the big truck, but they were all good horses, and Bill Ellis drove.

JACOB B. BROWN LAND SOLD.

Lots on Kay Street Disposed of at Auction, Bringing Satisfactory Prices.

The Jacob B. Brown land on Kay street, adjoining the estates of Edward A. Eden on the south and Mrs. T. O. Selfridge on the north between Everett street and Rhode Island avenue, was sold at auction this morning, having been laid out in 12 lots, with a court 35 feet wide, running from Kay street, in the centre of the front. The entire lot measured 220 feet on Kay street, with a greatest depth of 420 feet, being somewhat triangular in shape. The land was divided to give four lots on Kay street, two on either side of the court.

The first sold was that at the north corner on the Kay Street front, 50 by 100 and containing 5,244 square feet. This went to Alfred B. C. Gatzenmeier for $1,100.

The second, on the north corner of the court, containing 4,977 square feet, was sold to James M. Mickle for $1,000.

The lot on the south corner of the court, 50 by 90 and containing 4,525 square feet, was sold to William MacLeod for $1,005. The one adjoining on the south, on the Kay Street front, containing 4,645 square feet, was also sold to Mr. MacLeod for $1,035. Mr. MacLeod also bought the next two lots on the south side of the court, one 40 by 100 and the other 42 by 100, the former for $730 and the latter for $520.

The next two lots in the rear, 4,200 square feet each, were sold to Mrs. Johanna Mahoney, for $405 each. Mrs. Mahoney paid $263 for the lot at the end of the court on the south side, containing 3,520 square feet, and $80 for the triangular lot in the extreme rear, containing 2,814 square feet. She also purchased the lot on the north side, next to the triangular lot, containing 2,888 feet, for $265.

The lot on the north side of the court, immediately in the rear of the Kay street lots, was sold to Alfred B. C. Gatzenmeier for $525. This contains 3,595 square feet.

The sale was conducted by Fred W. Greene, under the direction of Herbert L. Dyer, for the Brown estate. There was a good attendance of would-be purchasers and the bidding was quite animated. The first lots sold did not bring all that was expected, but the sale as a whole was satisfactory, the total amount of the purchase prices being $5,750. The property is taxed for $7,000.

FOURTH OF JULY PLANS.

Committee Discusses Celebration Which Will Include Speech by Henry Clews.

The committee on Fourth of July celebration finally met Tuesday evening and for about two hours discussed plans for the celebration. A departure from previous years is proposed, in that there will be no parade. Instead, the old-fashioned plan of having an appropriate address will be tried and Mr. Henry Clews, who is now at his cottage here, has been secured to give the address, which will be in Touro park at 11 o'clock.

The committee will hold another meeting Thursday evening, when it is expected that the plans will be completed. There are to be fireworks, sports will be held under the direction of Mr. Christopher P. Ward and there will be other features to make the day one to be remembered.

YACHT CLUB FIXTURES.

The Rhode Island and Edgewood yacht clubs will visit the Newport Yacht Club Saturday, July 20, before starting on their cruise to the westward. The boats of the Newport club are invited to join in the cruise.

Saturday, August 10, there will be a race to Block Island under the direction of the Narragansett Bay Yacht Racing Association, the start to be off the Newport Yacht Club house. Several Newport boats are expected to participate.

Saturday, August 4, the Newport Yacht Club will entertain the captains and crews of the Narragansett Bay Yacht Racing Association with a smoker in the clubhouse.

THE FREEBODY PARK MID-WEEK CHANGE.

Bothwell Browne will remain for the week at Freebody Park, his success being unusual. The mid-week change of vaudeville will bring Thursday Douglas Washburn and company in the military comedy, "Entertaining the Colonel;" the Morton Sisters, in "Girls of 1852 and 1912;" The Visachi Brothers, European whistling virtuosi; Ernest Young in "White Wings" and the Two Sharps in "The Village Brass Band." The feature picture is to be the Parisian romance in two acts, "Art and Innocence," with three other pictures, making a program of 11 numbers.

BATTLESHIPS PLACED ON THE RESERVE LIST.

Four first-class battleships, by order of Acting Secretary Winthrop, Tuesday were placed on the reserve list. They are the Illinois, berthed at Boston; the Kentucky at Norfolk; the Alabama, at New York, and the Kearsarge at Philadelphia. The greater part of the personnel of these ships will be transferred to newer and larger vessels just from the builders' hands.

MANY KINDS OF FISH.

They are shipping some seup today. Macomber & Nickerson had about 120 barrels, the Fisheries Company 40, and C. B. Anderson 20, with others yet to report. There were 50 swordfish on the dock this noon, 25 of which Captain Henry Monson brought in on the Alice, a pretty strenuous day's work. There were also some mackerel. Seiner Evelyn Thompson, Captain Thompson, had 1,000 and half a dozen netters had from 400 to 500 each. C. B. Anderson had a few sample blues, "steaks," tinker mackerel and one spade fish.

PAULDING RUNS FAST.

With the Other Destroyers, However, She Shows Poor Smoke Elimination.

The second group of oil burners went to sea Tuesday for their speed and smoke tests and while the Paulding clocked one tenth of one per cent of her acceptance speed, which was 32.5 knots, none of the vessels, which comprised the Paulding, Drayton, Terry, McCall and Roe, made anything like the favorable showing for smoke elimination realized by the other groups. The highest speed in this year's tests was by the Maryland, 30.5 knots, with practically a total elimination of smoke for four hours, while in this last test none of the craft showed smoke for less than two hours.

The Paulding was the first oil burner of the navy and has been in service two years. Her displacement is today greater than before, as since she has been in commission additional weights in stores and equipment have been placed on her which were not allowed for at that time.

ST. AUGUSTIN'S FAIR COMMITTEES.

The following committees have been appointed for the St. Augustin's Church fair:

Chairman—Alexander R. O'Hanley.
Treasurer—Rev. Martin P. Reddy.
Contests—Lawrence Martin, Thomas Kelley, James Fagan.
Decoration—John Kelley, James Fagan, A. Gillies, George Wilmarth.

Candy table—Miss Viva Smith; apron table, Mrs. Conheeney, Mrs. Martin; chance counter, Misses Waldron, Sheekey and Cronan; refreshments, Mrs. John J. Sullivan; fancy articles, Mrs. Patrick Dunn, Mrs. Patrick Lyons.

GASOLINE GOES UP.

Good news seems to come in bunches. With the announcement that the price of meat has gone up four cents within a month and two cents within a week come the news that joy rides and motor boating are also to cost more. Gasoline took an upward bound of half a cent a gallon today and is now 15 cents. Some are receiving gasoline on contracts made the first of the year, for 10 cents a gallon. They are in luck, for others will now pay an advance of just 50 per cent.

A LITTLE RAIN AND FOG.

There was some rain Tuesday night, just a little. Then there was fog, which was nearly as good for growing things. The gardeners and farmers all agree that rain is much needed. The grass and grain crops are sure to be short and vegetation generally needs moisture. The long dry spell has brought out the sprinklers and the ponds are going down fast. Out on the island they say the potato crop promises well, but not half so well as the potato bug crop, which is a bumper, far ahead of the record and still growing.

BUSY TIMES AT THE SKATING RINK.

Manager Sorelro is making extensive arrangements for the confetti carnival at the skating rink, the electrical effects promising to be novel. The demand for tickets assures a large attendance.

The instructors at the rink are kept busy mornings with pupils learning fancy steps. These include many summer residents who are preparing for the roller skating at the Casino and Training Station. This morning there were 25 pupils at the rink.

A TRUTH.
Very often you go into a store to look at some article or articles and the salesman talks and talks and talks. When you get home you say to yourself, "That fellow talked a lot but to come to think of it he didn't say much."
Have you heard the saying, "Actions speak louder than words?" That just fits Becker Brothers Pianos. They speak for themselves.
Come in.

Demonstration This Week
West Electric Hair Curlers.

Stop in today and let a competent demonstrator show you this new hair waver.
It produces an exquisite wave in a few minutes, without the aid of heat.
Made of a single piece of electrified steel, with rounded edges, so it cannot possibly injure the hair.
Easy to use and will last a lifetime.

NO DAMAGE DONE.

Tank Steamer Larimer, Ashore Near Race Point Station, Floated.

PROVINCETOWN, Mass., June 26.—A volunteer crew went to the aid of tank steamer Larimer, Beverly for Port Arthur, ashore between the Race Point life saving station and the lighthouse, early today. The craft was discovered by Captain Fisher of the Race Point life saving station and, as there is no crew on duty at this season volunteers were summoned and set out to render assistance. The steamer floated on the rising tide and proceeded on her way before the life savers could reach her. The craft appeared to have sustained no damage.

STRIKE IN CLINTON OVER.

Some of the Weavers at the Lancaster Mills Not to be Re-Employed.

CLINTON, Mass., June 25.—The strike of weavers at the Lancaster mills formally ended today, with the return of members of the Industrial Workers of the World who have been out for 14 weeks. Several of the strikers have received notices from the officials that they will not be re-employed and the strike leader, Dennis J. Callahan, expects to become active in Industrial Workers of the World circles in Lawrence. More than 2,000 looms were running today. Since the strike began the loss to operatives in wages has been about $200,000 and the cost to the town for special police has been $5,000. Nearly 500 persons have gone to other industrial centres for employment since March, it is believed.

OUTSIDE AID GIVEN.

The Elm House and Seven Private Houses at Newfields, N. H., Burned.

NEWFIELDS, N. H., June 26.—The Elm House, and seven private houses were destroyed by fire about 7 a. m. today, and the Universalist Church was damaged. The loss is estimated at $20,000. Assistance was rendered by adjoining towns and also by Exeter and Newmarket.

SENTENCED FOR TWO MONTHS.

Three Suffragettes Smash Glass Panels in St. Stephen's Hall.

LONDON, June 26.—The three suffragettes who smashed the glass door panels in St. Stephen's Hall, while trying to gain admission to the House of Commons, last night, were sentenced by the police magistrate today, each to two months' imprisonment.

DEGREES CONFERRED UPON TEN

Medical School of Maine Holds Its Annual Commencement.

BRUNSWICK, Maine, June 26.—Degrees were conferred upon 10 graduates of the class of 1912, at the ninety-second Commencement of the Medical School of Maine today, in the First Parish Congregational Church. The address was given by John A. Merrill of Auburn.

LOCAL BRIEFS.

—Miss Edith Wetmore has arrived for the summer.

—The highway department is trimming the trees on Dearborn street.

—Mrs. E. Hayward Ferry entertained at dinner at "Edgehill" Tuesday evening.

—Mr. Ridgeway of Pittsburgh has arrived at Renfrew Park for the season.

—A party of school teachers are spending this week at the bungalow at "Bethshan-in-the-Woods."

—Mr. and Mrs. William Carson Kane have arrived for the season at the Knight cottage, Bellevue avenue.

—The work on the sea wall at King Park has so far progressed that it is expected it will be finshed this week.

—Mrs. Mortimer Burbank of Providence is making a two weeks' visit to Mrs. E. M. Hammett on Ledyard street.

—The Sunday School of the Channing Memorial Church will have its annual picnic at "Bethshan-in-the-Woods" Wednesday, July 10.

—Misses Sarah and Lillie Currin sailed Tuesday on the Laconia from New York for England and Scotland, where they will spend the summer.

—Senator and Mrs. R. Livingston Beeckman arrived from New York Tuesday in steam yacht Adroit. They will open their cottage "Land's End," at once.

—Mr. William R. Hunter will give a dinner at the Clam Bake Club this evening for the officers and governors, marking the opening of the club house for the season.

—Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton Fish Webster, who have been in Europe several months, returned Tuesday and are occupying their residence, "Pen Craig Cottage," on Harrison avenue.

—Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Parsons have arrived from Chicago, where they have been attending the Republican National convention, and are with Mrs. Parsons's father, Mr. Henry Clews, at "The Rocks."

—Mr. George Bakhemeteff, the Russian ambassador, and Mme. Bakhemeteff have postponed coming to Newport for a few days and are guests in Baltimore of Mrs. John R. McLean, for the Democratic convention.

—Mrs. George D. Widener arrived Tuesday evening at the Muenchinger-King, accompanied by her son, George D. Widener, Jr. Her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Fitz Eugene Dixon (formerly Miss Eleanor Elkins Widener), are also at the Muenchinger-King.

—Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Childs and Mr Paulding Fosdick arrived Tuesday night. Mr. Childs is an invalid and the party came in private car Frisco, the ambulance being there to convey him to the Van Duzen Reed cottage. Mrs. Herman Oelrichs was there to meet the family.

—C. H. Wrightington has sold for William H. Craig and wife to Joshua Stacy the property at 13 Tilley avenue, a four-family house and 5,000 square feet of land; also, for Samuel N. Booth and wife to Joshua Stacy the estate at 74 Warner street, a two-family house and 5,099 square feet of land.

—An operation for appendicitis was successfully performed at the Newport Hospital Tuesday afternoon upon Master Craig Biddle, Jr, the 12-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Craig Biddle, who are occupying the Shields cottage at Ochre Point. It is not regarded as a serious case and speedy recovery is anticipated.

—Among those who received the degree of doctor of philosophy at the commencement of Columbia University was Henry Marion Hall, who graduated from Harvard University in 1895. Dr. Hall is the son of Mrs. Florence Howe Hall and the grandson of Dr. Samuel Gridley Howe and Mrs. Julia Ward Howe. He is an instructor in the High School of Commerce in New York, and studied in that city for his new degree. The thesis which won it for him, "Idyls of Fishermen," has been issued by the Columbia University Press.

CONVENTION DAYS AT BALTIMORE.

Largest Democratic Conclave Assembles in Well-Appointed Hall.

Brilliant Electrical Display in Honor of Visitors—Romance of a Woman Delegate.

[Baltimore correspondence of The News.]

BALTIMORE, June 25.—The people of the Monumental City may have to yield the palm to Chicago for skyscrapers, but when it comes to convention halls they refuse to take second place. They are proud of the Fifth Regiment armory—proud of its size and proud of its appointments for the biggest national convention of the Democratic party. Fifteen thousand people under one roof is a good many, even for a national convention, but the handsome stone building in Hoffman street accommodates them without bulging. No Democratic convention ever before assembled in as large a structure. The trusses and rafters of the great drill hall have been twined with flags until the arched roof looks as if wreathed with rainbows. The telegraph companies have done their utmost to provide for the needs of the press. The basement contains tables for upward of 400 telegraphers and correspondents, not to mention the space alloted to them in the convention.

Thomas Taggart, Democratic national committeeman from Indiana, is the most scientific hand shaker in the convention. When he meets a friend or an acquaintance—and nearly everybody in the convention falls into one or the other category before it is over—he grasps the other man's right hand, at the same time taking hold with his left of the shakee's right elbow. It must be a singularly reserved or suspicious man who is not impressed by his frank, hearty method of greeting. These traits of "a good mixer" have stood the ex-chairman of the national committee in good stead during a long and successful political career.

Baltimore is losing no opportunity to impress the visiting thousands with her up-to-dateness and general attractiveness. Every night an electric fountain plays in front of the city hall, and more than 50,00 lights are swung along the main thoroughfares of the city. Orange and black appear as decorations on many buildings, a testimony of the esteem in which Woodrow Wilson is held by Baltimoreans. At least that is what strangers think until they learn that these are the "oriole" colors of Maryland.

Mrs. May Arkwright Hutton of Tacoma, Wash., who represents her Congress district in the convention, has had as romantic a history as if she were a heroine of a Rex Beach novel. In fact, she has put some of her experiences into a novel, which sold like hot cakes in the Coeur d'Alene country. It was there in the late nineties that she started a restaurant, which became famous among the miners, and there she met and married L. W. Hutton, a railway engineer. During the "bullpen" episode of the Idaho miners' strike Hutton was arrested and imprisoned. After his release he "struck it rich" in silver, became wealthy and removed to the state of Washington. In 1910 Mrs. Hutton campaigned Washington and California in behalf of the suffragists, and largely through her efforts were women given the ballot in both states. When the Washington state legislature was considering woman suffrage four years ago Mrs. Hutton maintained headquarters at Olympia and lobbied successfully for the measure.

The campaign poet is very busy here. Listen, for example, to "the song of Gaynor's men," or three stanzas of it:

Oh, who has ruled the city great—
Yes, with a knowledge up to date?
Who feared not to investigate?
Gaynor! Gaynor! Gaynor!

Who treats the rich and poor the same,
Who always is "just mighty game,"
And who has added to his fame?
Gaynor! Gaynor! Gaynor!

William J. Gaynor is a man of renown,
His fame is resounding all over this old town.
If right and if justice high office can get
The nation's voice will make him President yet.
You bet!

One of the most important functionaries of the convention is John T. Martin, sergeant-at-arms. With 200 assistants, including some of the most prominent men of the country, he guards the portals of the convention hall and he or she will be a very astute person who gets under Mr. Martin's guard without the proper credentials for admission.

"I will not hesitate," says he, "to have any one arrested for trying to force an entrance, and if there is any strong arm work needed I will do it myself. If I catch any one trying to use fraudulent means I will not have him arrested, but will quietly take his badge away and tell him the way out, and after that, if he makes a fuss—well, I've handled that kind before."

NOMINATIONS TO PRECEDE PLATFORM.

testing forces found it useless to go into the convention next day and renew their fight.

BOTH IN TOUCH WITH MANAGERS

Clark and Underwood Receive Convention News at Their Offices.

WASHINGTON, June 26.—Speaker Clark and Representative Oscar Underwood spent the day in their offices in the Capitol receiving news from Baltimore. Both candidates were in touch with their managers by telephone and learned of developments in the convention by newspaper reports also. Neither would express any opinion over the developments of yesterday or the part their forces took in the contest between Bryan and Mr. Parker. The candidates greeted many visitors from Baltimore during the day.

OFFERS OF AID RECEIVED.

Money Sent to Roosevelt for Formation of His New Party.

OYSTER BAY, June 26.—Offers of assistance in the formation of the new progressive party are reaching Colonel Roosevelt by mail and telegraph, he said today, at such a rate that he will be unable to acknowledge most of them for some time. When he reached home from Chicago he found hundreds of telegrams awaiting him and today they continued to come in. Many of the letters contained money to be used in the work of organization. One man whose name was not disclosed, sent his check for $1,500, but most of the donations were of small amounts from persons who wrote that they were giving all they could.

Judge Ben Lindsay of Denver, a "Roosevelt Democrat," who left Chicago for Baltimore, will keep Colonel Roosevelt posted upon the situation there and the possibility of a coalition with an element of the Democratic party.

WILSON IN CLOSE TOUCH.

Telephone and Telegraph Wires to the "Little White House" Busy.

SEA GIRT, N. J., June 26.—Governor Wilson kept in touch with the leaders of his campaign in Baltimore today by telephone, and over a telegraph wire strung through the trees surrounding the New Jersey "little White House" to a tent on the lawn. During the forenoon he disposed of a batch of correspondence and saw no callers. He planned to spend the afternoon on the golf links, where he received the results of yesterday's vote on temporary chairman.

CROSSES STATE'S BOUNDARY.

Wingfield of Nevada Nearly Loses Chance for Nixon's Seat.

CARSON, Nevada, June 26.—Governor Oddie and George Wingfield, the latter recently appointed, but not formally qualified, to fill the vacancy in the United States Senate caused by the death of Senator Nixon, crossed the boundary of the state yesterday and Mr. Wingfield thereby nearly lost his chance to don his toga. That he did not was due to the refusal of Lieutenant Governor Ross, a Democrat, to accede to the wishes of a group of politicians who attempted to "railroad" a Democrat into the Senate as a successor to the late Senator Nixon, a Republican.

Governor Oddie and Mr. Wingfield are Republicans. Learning that the governor was out of the state opponents of Wingfield hastily consulted attorneys and finding their view that a vacancy in the Senate still existed, they thereupon called on acting Governor Ross, who promptly declined to act.

"I do not believe in snap judgment in political matters," said Ross, "nor do I know of a Democrat qualified for the position who would take advantage of circumstances to defeat the governor's wishes."

POLITICAL NOTE ACCENTUATED.

Presidential Candidates of Women's Clubs Favor Suffrage.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 26.—The political note is becoming accentuated among the delegates to the General Federation of Women's Clubs and the supporters of the candidates for office are vigorously advocating the claims and merits of their favorites.

The two candidates for president—Mrs. Philip Carpenter of New York and Mrs. Percy V. Pennypacker of Texas—have expressed themselves in favor of woman suffrage, but both are averse to having the matter brought into the convention. Mrs. Carpenter has many friends among the delegates from New England and the eastern states, and it is on their votes that she chiefly relies. Mrs. Pennypacker's strength lies chiefly with the delegates from the South and West.

There will be a vigorous contest for the offices of first and second vice presidents. Mrs. L. L. Blankenburg, wife of the mayor of Philadelphia, will have the solid support of Pennsylvania's votes for advancement to the first vice presidency. The Ohio women are strongly urging the selection of Mrs. Samuel D. Sneath of Tiffin, Ohio, for the same office. A third candidate is Miss Georgia A. Bacon of Massachusetts, who has a strong following from New England. The proposal was voted down to make active and associate members pay dues on the first of January membership basis. A similar fate awaited the motion to have a director from each state, not otherwise represented on the general board of directors.

The council decided that presidents of state federations hereafter might be regularly accredited voting members at a biennial convention, whether or not they are elected delegates, provided their names were ratified by the convention. Of the 13 responses so far received from members as to the choice of a national flower, eight favored the laurel, the rest being scattering.

Reports of chairmen of the various committees were made, among them that of Mrs. Barry on "Personnel and Expense in the normal schools" and addresses by Miss Juliette Stuart on "English scholarship" and by Professor Maria L. Sanford of the University of Minnesota on "Moral power in the school room." Teh afternoon was devoted to conferences and committee meetings.

PRIMARIES IN NORTH DAKOTA.

Voting Going on in North Dakota for State and Other Officials.

BISMARCK, North Dakota, June 26.—State primaries are in progress throughout North Dakota for the nomination of Republican and Democratic state, Congress and county officials. There are four aspirants for the governorship on the Republican ticket and two on the Democratic. They are James Buchanan, L. B. Hanna, C. M. Johnson and H. N. Midthe. The Democratic candidates are George P. Jones and Frank O. Hellstrom.

LEHMANN'S PLANS UNKNOWN.

Solicitor General of the United States Hands Resignation to Taft.

WASHINGTON, June 26.—Frederick W. Lehmann, solicitor general of the United States, has placed his resignation in the hands of President Taft. It is not known whether the resignation has been formally accepted, but it is known that his successor has practically been chosen. Mr. Lehmann, who is a Democrat, has been mentioned for a place upon the Supreme Court bench and has been regarded by many as a possibility for Attorney General if a Democrat comes into power. His plans are not known, though some of his friends believe he may become active in the Democratic campaign.

William Marshall Bullitt of Louisville, Ky., is said to be under consideration by President Taft as a successor to Mr. Lehmann. Some officials here regard it as settled that the place has been offered to Mr. Bullitt and he has accepted. It has not been decided when Mr. Lehmann's resignation is to become effective.

BOILOT WINS RACE.

Takes Automobile Grand Prize in Contest in Dieppe.

DIEPPE, France, June 26.—Boilot, driving a French Peugeot machine, today won the automobile grand prize, completing the distance of 1,540 kilometres (about 956 miles 7 furlongs) in the elapsed time of 13 hours, 38 minutes 2 3-5 seconds, at an average hourly speed of 110 kilometres (about 68 miles 1 1-2 furlongs).

Wagner secured second place in 14 hours, 11 minutes, 8 2-5 seconds, and Regal, driving an English sunbeam machine, was third in 14 hours, 38 minutes and 36 seconds.

Proposed Advanced Freight Rates on Shoes Suspended by Commission.

WASHINGTON, June 26.—Proposed advanced freight rates on boots and shoes from Boston, Mass., Providence, R. I., and New York to Atlanta, Ga., today were suspended by the Interstate Commerce Commission from July 1 until October 29. The increases proposed in a tariff filed with the commission by the Clyde Steamship Company and the Ocean Steamship Company, to apply to ocean and rail traffic, would have advanced the rates from 95 cents per 100 pounds to $1.05.

In cases exhaustively heard by the commission the rate of 55 cents was found to be reasonable, and an order to that effect was issued. That order expired March 31. The carrier appealed to the commerce court for an injunction to restrain the commission from making its order effective, but the proceeding was withdrawn. The order having expired, the carriers again filed the advances. These now have been suspended pending further inquiry.

CORROBORATION

Of Interest to News Readers.

For months Newport citizens have seen in these columns enthusiastic praise of Doan's Kidney Pills by residents of this locality.

Would these prominent people recommend a remedy that had not proven reliable?

Would they confirm their statements after years had elapsed if personal experience had not shown the remedy to be worthy of endorsement?

The following statement should carry conviction to the mind of every News reader.

Mrs. O. H. Harvey, 32 Congregational St., Bristol, R. I., says: "I still think highly of Doan's Kidney Pills and confirm the statement I gave for publication in 1909, recommending them. My kidneys troubled me for some time and I had backache. Doan's Kidney Pills cured me."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Instructions Awaited from Governments Regarding China's Action.

PEKIN, China, June 26.—The group of international bankers representing the United States, Great Britain, France, Germany, Russia and Japan is awaiting instructions from the various governments in regard to China's attitude on the subject of the loan of $300,000,000. This has been abandoned by the Chinese government, which refused to countenance any supervision of its finances such as is insisted upon by the foreign bankers and also rejects the proposal in reference to the reorganization of the salt monopoly urged by the lending bankers, as a means of providing security for the Chinese government. At the same time China makes a counter proposition asking for an advance of 6,000,000 taels ($4,200,000) monthly until October, and in that month a loan of $50,000,000.

HANDS WOULD CRACK OPEN

"About two months ago my hands started to crack open and bleed, the skin would scale off, and the good flesh would burn and itch dreadfully. There were small blisters like water blisters which formed. They itched dreadfully. It just seemed as though I could tear the skin all off. I would scratch them and the skin would peel off, and the flesh would be all red and crack open and bleed. It worried me very much, as I had never had anything the matter with my skin. I was so afraid I would have to give up my employment. My doctor said he didn't think it would amount to anything. But it kept getting worse. One day I saw a piece in one of the papers about a lady who had the same trouble with her hands. She had tried Cuticura Soap and Ointment and was cured. I decided to try them, and my hands were all healed before I had used one cake of Cuticura Soap and one box of Cuticura Ointment. Thanks to them I was cured, and did not have to lose a day from work. I have had no return of the skin trouble." (Signed) Mrs. Mary L. Breig, 2522 Brown Street, Philadelphia, Pa., Jan. 12, 1911.

Although Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment are sold by druggists and dealers throughout the world, a liberal sample of each, with 32-p. book on the skin and hair will be sent free, on application to "Cuticura," Dept. K, Boston.

AT THE DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION.

Fifth Regiment Armory at Baltimore Meeting Place for Delegates.

No Expense Spared to Beautify Interior of Hall, Decorated With Fire-Proof Bunting.

The Democratic candidate for President of the United States will be nominated in a huge national guard armory situated in the residence portion of Baltimore. When Baltimore sent its representatives before the Democratic national committee to bring the national convention there the possession of an ideal convention hall was one of the strongest advantages Baltimore had to offer. Since that time, at the expense of many thousand dollars the hall has been made to answer every requirement of the delegates who assemble there June 25 and the throngs that gather to watch their deliberations.

The Democratic national convention will meet in the Fifth regiment armory, which occupies nearly a whole city square in the Mount Royal district, fronting on Hoffman street, and bounded by Preston street in the rear. At the two ends of the block are Park and Linden avenues, both of which carry trolley lines connecting with the business centre. Two squares distant is the main station of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad and only a little further, barely five minutes walk, is the Union Station, where passengers arrive on the other railroads entering the city. Close at hand, within easy walking distance, is the city's largest hotel.

When the state spent $450,000 for this drill hall to house Baltimore's famous regiment the "Dandy Fifth" big conventions were in mind and the building was situated and designed with reference to affording such accommodations. Exterior embellishment was a secondary consideration. The Fifth regiment armory is surrounded by massive walls of grey granite, two stories high, from which rise 12 steel trusses that carry the arched roof to a height of 85 feet. It is lighted by windows in the side walls and by a skylight that runs the whole length of the apex of the roof. From the outside the appearance of the structure is not particularly impressive, probably because the principal dimensions are lateral, and too extensive for the eye to appreciate unless the beholder could look down on the building from an elevation. The armory extends 364 feet in width on Hoffman and Preston streets and is 284 feet deep. The great drill hall, inside, where the convention will assemble, is 300 x 200 feet.

To adapt the building further to convention purposes the state appropriated $35,000. The greater part of this sum has been spent to increase the seating capacity by putting in temporary balconies at the two ends of the drill hall. Decorations, which include the construction of a false ceiling to improve the acoustic properties, cost $7,000. Several thousand dollars has been spent in the construction of the speakers' platform, on seats, and on re-modeling the military company quarters at the sides and ends of the building for use as committee rooms.

As one enters the hall through the main gateway on Hoffman street the eye first is impressed by the magnificent distances and the seemingly endless vistas of seats. Under the hands of the decorators the place has lost its military, utilitarian look, transformed by the more than 40,000 yards of bunting that hides the roof beams, drapes the walls and covers practically every foot of the interior except the windows and floor spaces. The background is a soft effect of cream, gold and white, which makes an effective setting for the national colors displayed in countless arrangements, and the insignia and colors of the various states.

The seating arrangements are the result of long study on the architects' part, aided by the practical experience of men versed in the practical problems of great conventions. The hall will seat comfortably more than 15,000 persons, and those in charge of its preparation believe they have worked out their problem so that every member of this great audience can command a view of the speakers' stand and understand what is being said. To bring this about the location of the speakers' platform was the matter of first importance.

In the Baltimore hall the speakers will stand well out toward the middle of the auditorium directly opposite the main central entrance, midway between the ends of the hall and about 60 feet, or more than one-third the distance, from the rear wall of the interior. This rostrum, the heart of the convention hall, is not large enough to permit much pacing about on the orator's part. It measures about 15 feet long by 10 feet deep. It is elevated six feet above the main floor.

Back of the rostrum, two feet above it and communicating by steps, is another platform of the same size for the use of the secretaries of the convention. Back of this are 500 seats, banked at the rear to a height of 14 feet, which are reserved for the officers of the national organization. Grouped about the speakers' platform, at both sides and in front, are 435 seats for the press. These communicate through passageways under the banked-up seats behind with the company rooms outside the drill hall which have been fitted up for the use of the newspapers and press associations and telegraph and telephone companies. From these offices, within sound of the speaker's voice and of the secretary as he announces the results of each ballot, run wires that will carry the news of the convention to the world.

In front of the platform, separated only by the narrow row of press seats and an aisle, are the places for the delegates who come to Baltimore to register the Presidential choice of the party in the various states and territories of the Union. Although the number of votes these states and territories may cast aggregates 1,094, the architects have provided seats for 1,200 delegates, because some of the states, Maryland among them, send to Baltimore twice as many delegates as they have votes, each delegate being the custodian of half a vote. Back of the delegates sit an equal number of alternates, and these 2,400 seats occupy the centre of the floor between the platform and the entrances. These four blocks of seats will hold much of the life and motion of the convention. The location of the representatives of each state will be shown by an elevated sign.

For convenience in handling the crowds, the convention seats have been divided into 76 sections, of which 8 are on the floor and the rest in the balconies. The floor will seat 10,651 and the balconies 4,408, bringing the seats on the floor reserved for officers, delegates and alternates and the press leaves 7,220 for the public. These with the balconies make room for 11,628 seats for the accommodation of Baltimoreans and visitors, who are expected by the ten-thousands from all parts of the country.

The public seats on the main floor occupy the two ends of the hall and run at right angles to the delegates' seats, so that when a speaker on the rostrum is facing the delegates the greater part of the audience will get side views of him. The great balconies that have been added temporarily to the armory project from the ends and overhang nearly half these end seats on the floor. These two balconies are 200 feet long by 52 feet deep. At the front and back of the hall the narrow permanent balconies have been equipped with three rows of seats that will accommodate between 400 and 500. The balconies are 12 feet above the ground floor in front and securely supported by beams of wood and steel. The two at the ends of the hall are banked so that the view from the rear seats will be unobstructed.

To facilitate quick emptying of the building, 13 new doors have been cut in the granite walls, making a total of 18. Twelve of these are for the use of those who hold tickets to the balconies, and enable the balconies to connect directly with the street. The extra doors on the ground floor are for use mainly as exits, since no difficulty is anticipated in handling all who enter through the wide entrances in the front and centre of the building.

Seats for the public are reserved only by sections, which are designated by numbers of letters. The larger blocks of seats are numbered and each numbered block is divided into three subsections, lettered respectively "A," "B" and "C." A ticketholder who finds his piece of pasteboard stamped, for instance, "35— B" will find his seat among the 152 chairs grouped under that subdivision. These subdivisions include from 42 to 217 seats each and the most desirable chairs in each division will go to the earliest comers.

The convention hall band will be in a stand erected over the main entrance. Space has been given for 200 musicians. A telephone with an electric signal light connects the leader's stand with the desk of the chairman at the opposite side of the hall, so that the latter may signal his wishes. The chairman's position is connected by telephone also with the six committee rooms, which have been fitted up in the vacated company quarters at the two ends of the building.

No expense has been spared to beautify the interior of the hall. The principal task of the re-modellers was the construction of a false ceiling which would improve the acoustic properties by preventing the speakers' voices from being lost among the lofty steel trusses of the curved roof. This has been accomplished by suspending from the roof beams arched trusses of wooden framework which have been covered with bunting. The spaces between have been filled in with bunting so as to present an unbroken cloth ceiling which at a distance looks more permanent than its temporary use demanded. The ceiling is cream colored paneled with gold.

The construction of this false ceiling and the draping of the walls and girders and the installation of the flags, pictures and party slogans which make up the interior decorations occupied 14 men for more than a month and cost $7,000. Thirty-four thousand yards of cream, gold and white bunting have been used and 6,000 yards of red, white and blue. To sew these strips of cloth together six seamstresses drove their sewing machines eight hours a day for two weeks. Three hundred flags have been used.

The balcony railings are festooned with national colors and at the base of each arch descending from the roof is the insignia of some state or territory. The speakers' stand is covered with red, white and blue, with the colors and arms of the state of Maryland banked in front. Most conspicuous of the portraits that adorn the walls are paintings of Washington and Jefferson, each eight feet square and executed especially for this purpose.

A feature of these decorations which the committee in charge is particularly proud of is that every yard of bunting used has been fire-proofed. The fire-proofing preparation was mixed with the dye and has not changed the appearance of the cloth subjected to this process. Although the cotton cloth used in its natural state is very inflammable, the fire-proofed bunting will not blaze even when thrown into the fire. The cloth will charr, but only in places to which a flame is directly applied.

The use of this fire-proof bunting in a building constructed of stone, brick and steel has not, however, prevented the convention committee from taking other precautions against a possible fire. The hall is provided with an unusual number of exits, and the fact that the main floor is on a level with the outside street is regarded as another valuable factor of safety.

MIDDLETOWN.

[Regular correspondence of The News.]

Miss Mary Brownell and family of Providence are occupying their new summer cottage on Indian avenue hill, near the Third beach. The house was completed too late in the fall to be occupied last season.

Mr. Crawford P. Hart, son of Mr. and Mrs. William V. Hart of Wapping road, has been appointed farm superintendent at Kingston College for the summer, to relieve Professor Howland Burdick, who has been granted a vacation.

Mr. Charles Sherman is having an artesian well put in beside his regular well at the Sherman farm, Mitchell's road.

The foundation for a second large barn is being put in at the Van Beuren estate, "Sunnyfields Farm."

BETTER THAN FLY-SWATTING.

[Cleveland Plain-Dealer.]

Experienced campers know that if scraps of food and other camp debris are carefully burned or buried there will be no trouble with flies, provided the camp is at a distance from habitations. It is as well known that if food scraps are left lying about a camp 50 miles from the nearest house there will soon be plenty of flies hatched, and that their numbers will increase, though the short camper spend his whole time swatting them.

It is worth while keeping this in mind while trying to exterminate flies in cities by catching them in traps, or hitting them on the back. The citizen who keeps his back yard cleaned does much to keep down the fly population and to save his family and neighbors from annoyance and disease. The garden hoe is one of the best exterminators.

There are now 531 electors. The Presidential candidate who wins must have 266. Mr. Bryan had 176 electors to McKinley's 371. Four years later McKinley had 292 and Bryan 155, and President Taft in 1908 had almost double Bryan's strength, the result then standing 321 and Bryan 162.

Just say Hires

WHEN YOU DRINK HIRES you are carried back to boyhood days—the days when you tramped merrily through field and forest. In its fine combination of Nature's essences, you detect all of those good things that used to delight your taste.

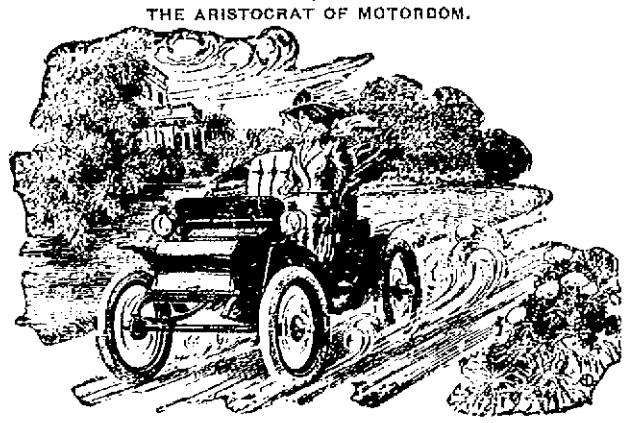

Roots, barks, herbs, the sap of fragrant flowers and trees, blend together to make this best of all drinks.

Absolutely pure, healthful, and mighty good to the taste. Hires is the genuine rootbeer. A natural tonic—but not a trace of drugs.

YACHTING NOTES.

Louis L. Lorillard's New Launch Put Overboard—Several Sloops in Commission.

The Experiment, the new launch built at Williams & Manchester's for Mr. Louis L. Lorillard, was put overboard from the boatshop Monday afternoon. To show his appreciation of the work done in the construction of the boat Mr. Lorillard gave the men employed in the yard a spread of good and seasonable things, including strawberry shortcake, etc., which was appreciated by the men as well as the boat was appreciated by Mr. Lorillard.

The new craft is a handsome piece of work and reflects credit on the designers and builders. She is of the model of the Bertha L, with slight changes, but is 10 feet longer and much bigger. She measures 28 feet on the water line, and 30 over all, with a big cabin with all accommodations for cooking and sleeping, running water, electric lights, etc. She is driven by a 15-18 Murray & Tregurtha engine, situated under the cockpit floor and clear of the cabin, with every precaution taken to ensure a complete separation of the after from the forward part of the boat.

In construction only the best of material and plenty of it was used. The oak makes her look particularly solid. The peculiar stern with its rudder, reminding one of the old double-enders of Block Island, gives the launch a strange look, but she is not at all freakish. Her automobile gray sides and dark green decks afford a relief to the eyes and make her different from any other craft in appearance. She will probably be ready for service about July 4.

Sloops Jocelyn, Mr. Parker of Jamestown, and Tacow, Mr. Robinson of Edgewood, have been launched from Williams & Manchester's, where cutboat Mollie, Admiral Selfridge, will shortly be put in commission. Work on Mr. Butenzle's sloop Molly B. is on and she will shortly go into commission. The Ite is also fitting out at this yard.

Mrs. Pulitzer has chartered from Mr. Lorillard Spencer his fast launch Ranger and Captain W. J. Smith is now fitting out at the shipyard for a trip to Bar Harbor, where the boat will be used this season.

Launch Lady Violet, Mr. E. H. Perry, is at the shipyard, fitting out for the season. She came from Paul Smith's, in the Adirondacks.

Mr. J. M. Dodge's auxiliary yawl Hobby has arrived from Philadelphia for the season.

Mr. Edward Wilson has sold his houseboat Sarah to a Providence yachtsman and she has gone to her new station up the bay.

The Bliven brothers have launched their new auxiliary catboat Winnie. She is 22 feet 6 inches over all, is equipped with a 7-horse-power Stanley engine and fully fitted with sail power. She is a handsome and ablelooking craft for her inches.

The Newton has gone into commission and Captain Jack McCool nearly has the Spray ready. She had a trial spin Sunday.

Steam yacht Thetis has come off the railway at the shipyard and is ready for the swordfishing season, having her pulpit rigged.

MEIKLEJOHN HONORED.

President-Elect of Williams Receives Degree of Doctor of Laws.

WILLIAMSTOWN, Mass. June 26.—Associate Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes of the United States Supreme Court was awarded the honorary degree of doctor of laws at the one hundred and eighteenth Commencement of Williams College today. The same degree was conferred upon President-elect Alexander Meiklejohn of Amherst College and Major Henry Lee Higginson, the Boston banker and founder of the Boston symphony orchestra. Other recipients of honorary degrees were as follows:

Doctor of divinity: William H. Sanders, '77 a missionary in Central Africa, since 1880. Henry T. Perry, '92, a missionary in Turkey since 1866 and founder of the Sivas Normal School to educate native teachers and missionaries.

Doctor of Letters: Owen Wister, author and poet.

Master of arts: William J. Boies '92, writer on banking and finance and on the staff of the New York Evening Post. Edgard Willey Ames '09, teacher of history.

AMHERST CONFERS DEGREES.

Senator Lodge and Rt. Rev. Thomas F. Davies Among Those Honored.

AMHERST, Mass., June 26.—United States Senator Henry Cabot Lodge and Rt. Rev. Thomas F. Davies, bishop of the Episcopal diocese of western Massachusetts, were among those honored by Amherst College at the ninety first annual Commencement exercises today. The degree of doctor of laws was conferred on the Senator and that of doctor of divinity on Bishop Davies.

Edward C. Robbins of St. Louis, a member of the class of 1863, who left college two years before graduating, to enter the Confederate army, was granted the degree of bachelor of arts.

Degrees in course were conferred by President Harris on 99 candidates. The list of honorary degrees follows:

Master of Science: Edmund Thompson of Amherst, "contriver of ingenious devices for telescopic and microscopic observations."

Doctor of divinity: Rev. Frank J. Goodwin of Washington, D. C.; Bishop Thomas F. Davies, Springfield.

Doctor of laws: Francis R. Allen, Boston, architect. Senator Henry Cabot Lodge.

DEMURRER OVERRULED.

Regarding Indictments Filed for Cash Register Employes and Officials.

CINCINNATI, June 26.—Judge Holister, in the United States district court, overruled a demurrer to the indictments filed by attorneys for the 30 officers and employes of the National Cash Register Company of Dayton, who, it is alleged, engaged in a conspiracy in restraint of trade in violation of the Sherman law.

URGED TO VETO MEASURE.

Railroad Men Ask Taft Not to Sign Judicial Appropriation Bill.

WASHINGTON June 26.—R. S. Davis of Kansas City, and a committee representing short line railroads of the Southwest, today urged President Taft to veto the executive, legislative and judicial appropriation bill, which carried an amendment to abolish the commerce court. The railroad men told the President they would practically have no method of appealing from the Interstate Commerce Commission if the court were abolished and no new machinery for appeals set up. The President indicated that he would support the court and veto the bill.

ANTHONY HIGGINS DEAD.

First Republican Elected to United States Senate from Delaware.

WILMINGTON, Del., June 26.—Former United States Senator Anthony Higgins of Delaware, died today at the home of his brother, in New York. Mr. Higgins had been ill for some time. He was 71 years old and was the first Republican elected to the United States Senate from Delaware.

ALEXANDRA DAY.

Ten Thousand Women Sell Flowers on the Streets of London.

LONDON, June 26.—Ten thousand women, including many prominent society women and several duchesses, all of them dressed in white and wearing white hats trimmed with garlands of roses sold flowers on the streets of London today, which was called Alexandra day, in honor of the queen mother. The proceeds are to be given to the metropolitan hospitals and convalescent homes in the name of Queen Alexandra, who originated the idea.

Ten million artificial wild roses were made for the occasion by blind and crippled workers. A buttonhole bouquet of wild roses cost two cents, while a bunch was sold for 25 cents. For use on horses there were rosettes, while for motor cars garlands had been provided. There was much rivalry among the women for the most favorable locations, as prizes were offered for the best sales.

Noon—Industrials and financial developments outweighed all other considerations in today's stock market. The long expected price advances in finished steel and iron were announced by several of the leading independents, with a likelihood of similar action by the Steel Corporation. Steel and allied shares were resultantly strong, but less so than some of the standard railway shares, notably the coalers. Numerous specialties, including American Tobacco, which rose to a new high record, were prominent in the early dealings. Another gold engagement for Paris called renewed attention to the foreign situation. Bonds were steady. Money on call steady at 2¾ per cent. Prime mercantile paper 4 to 4½ per cent. Exchanges $305,196,277; balances $16,570,837.

THE ANTI-FLY CAMPAIGN.

Committee to Offer Prizes for Month of July—Report of Work Done Clean-Up Day.

The committee which has had charge of the anti-fly campaign in Newport held an important meeting Tuesday afternoon, receiving reports from sub-committees and arranging for closing the work with the month of July. It has received and paid for 2,500 flies, and the children who have been "swatting" are still reporting.

It was decided that it would be desirable to close the campaign with next month, and further to stimulate activity in the work it was voted to offer prizes for the largest number of flies delivered at the office of the Anti Tuberculosis Society during that month. There will be prizes of $10 each for the boy and girl bringing in the largest number above a certain figure, $5 each for the boy and girl having the next largest number, $3 each for the boy and girl next in order, five prizes of $2 each and ten of $1 each to be given without distinction to those, boys or girls, who do the next best work.

Mr. Gatzenmeier, chairman of the executive committee having in charge the Clean-up day, reported on the work done last Saturday by the volunteer inspectors and Boy Scouts. The report showed that excellent results had been accomplished, in exposing some very unhealthful conditions and in cleaning up some of the places, leaving others to be treated by the city authorities. The committee reported that little difficulty was experienced by the inspectors, who were generally cordially received and assisted by householders. There was, however, one place where the inspector was told that the occupants of the house did not wish the place cleaned. The report was received and ordered placed on the record, and its various parts will be referred to the Board of Health or the chief engineer of the fire department, as the needs of the case require.

KING PARK BAND CONCERTS.

Four of the Summer Series Allotted to That Place—Commission Caring for the Trees.

The Park Commission held its monthly meeting Tuesday afternoon, Chairman Sheploy and Messrs. Gardner, McLeish and Costello present.

The chairman was appointed a committee to attend to the repairing of benches in the parks, and buy new benches where necessary. He was also appointed a committee on repairs to the spray fountain on the Mall, which seems to be leaking and does not fill to the overflow provided.

Mr. Costello was appointed to have charge of the spraying of the trees and such trimming as may be necessary for their proper care. Contractor Butler, who is now required to be present at meetings, answered any questions asked.

There was some talk about one of the big trees on the Mall so projecting that it obscures the view of the court house clock and somebody thought the tree ought to be trimmed so that a view of the clock might be had. Mr. Costello said that perhaps for the best care of the tree some pruning might be necessary, but it was ridiculous to talk of spoiling a fine tree to suit somebody who is too lazy to move far enough to see the clock, if he wishes to know the time.

In regard to the trees on Touro park, he said some trimming is necessary to give them a proper chance; perhaps it would be the best plan to remove some trees, to allow the proper development of others. There are some fine trees on this park and they should be cared for, in the interest of the park as a whole and not of any individual tree.

There was talk about the city band concerts and on the suggestion of Mr. McLeish four concerts were allotted to King park. This means that, instead of having band concerts on Morton park every Sunday, there will be but five band concerts on this popular park and on the day when most people enjoy them. The band concert season is to begin July 7 and end September 12 and Battery and King parks are to have nine of the concerts, the Mall and Touro park five each, and five Sundays on Morton park. The idea is to have two of the King Park concerts on evenings when the yachts are in. This was tried once.

MR. DIXON'S CONDITION NOT DANGEROUS.

The press report re-printed in The News Tuesday, regarding the critical condition of Mr. Clayton Dixon, proves to have been erroneous, but nevertheless gave a great shock to Captain and Mrs. Hugh L. Willoughby when they read it, because it was so contrary to their advices and was assumed to be later. The wires were made busy and the report was not only proved wrong, but from Mrs. Dixon and the physician came assurance that the patient is not in a dangerous condition and is convalescing from his injuries, which were slight compared with the report.

"GOLDEN HAIR AND THE THREE BEARS" AGAIN.

The Junior Auxiliary of St. John's [illegible]ch repeated the operetta of "Golden Hair and the Three Bears" at [illegible]ould hall Tuesday evening. It [illegible] given several weeks ago, to the [illegible]eral satisfaction of those who saw it, and on the second performance there was an even larger attendance. The operetta was given in a pleasing manner, the principals and chorus doing good work. Mrs. H. K. Durfee directed the performance and Mrs. Julius Burdick was the accompanist.

Between the acts there were vocal solos by Mr. Harry Scoville, Mr. Otto James accompanying; recitations by Mr. George Ramlose and piano numbers by Mr. James. An orchestra consisting of Kenneth Dennis, Arthur Maycock and Harold Johnson played during the evening and later for dancing.

GRADUATED WITH HONORS.

Miss Pauline Curley Takes Degree in Voice at New England Conservatory of Music.

Miss Pauline Curley of this city was graduated with honors Tuesday afternoon from the New England Conservatory of Music, one of a class of 78 members from the oldest and largest school of professional music in the United Staes, founded in 1853 by Dr. Eben Tourjee. Miss Curley had the honor of a part on the Commencement program, rendering Puccini's Aria from La Boheme, "Michiamano Mimi." In a manner which gained enthusiastic commendation from an audience which crowded Jordan hall of the Conservatory building. Her degree was in the soloists' and teachers' course of the voice department.

The Neume, the annual book of the graduating class, to which Lillian Nordica, herself a New England Conservatory graduate, has sent special greetings this year, publishes concerning Miss Curley the following little appreciation:

Pauline Curley,
Newport, R. I.

"And virtue is its own reward."
Graduate in Voice under Charles Willis. Teacher at the Academy of the Assumption, Wellesley Hills, Mass.

Miss Curley is a daughter of the late Dr. John P. Curley and a niece of Mr. Maurice M. Curley and Mrs. Mary Curley Rooney of this city. Her mother will be remembered by many in Newport for her artistic abilities, being at one time a well known instructor of vocal music.

MERRY-GO-ROUND BEGUN.

Material Delayed But Finally Secured, and Beach Work Being Pushed.

The management of the beach was considerably exercised Tuesday over the non-arrival of the car containing the first essentials of the new merry-go-round, since the men to set it up were to be here this morning. The car was reported lost, but the railroad company found that in Superintendent McGowan as a receiver of freight it had a new proposition. He tramped on the company's tracks, as it were, with the result that they promised to find the car and send it in on a passenger train. The car was here this morning, and so were the men to work on the material it contained.

The making of ice cream at the beach began this week, in accordance with the announcement that this article would be manufactured there. The factory is attached to the general storehouse, with an electric motor for power. The location permits of concentration of effort in serving the cream to the various departments selling it to the public.

The merry-go-round building continues to be of the same heavy construction above as below, and by tonight most of the hard pine rafter will be in position and the construction tower can soon be removed from the interior, leaving the space clear for setting up the machine.

The roof trusses for the dance hall are in place and the rafters are being put in position, so that the boarding in of the roof may continue over the centre section as it has on the outer. The roof of the east pavilion is being boarded in and this place will soon be protected from the elements.

In the dining hall the white glass tops are on the tables, the dishes are in the general storehouse and it will be but a matter of a few hours to straighten out the place for service. In the cookhouse work is still going on, but full service is promised for Sunday. The various appliances are located, the ranges are connected ready to have fires lighted and steam pipers are running mains from the 20-horse-power boiler to the various devices heated this way. The bed for the clambake, which will be nearer the roadway than heretofore, has been in for some time and will be well dried out when needed for use.

Many old employes of the beach are on duty again this year. They say the business this year is equal to mid-July of former seasons, but the management does not consider that it is yet in position to show how it is proposed to run the place, as there is too much construction in progress.

FREIGHT YARD CONDITIONS.

Refuse from the Wild West Still There and Repairs to the Roadbed Unsatisfactory.

To the Editor of The News:

I would respectfully call the attention of your readers to a condition that exists in the railroad freight yard in these hours when "clean up" is the word. The Wild West was here on Thursday and the filth from the animal cars was swept out on what the road calls the driveway. These piles were there this morning and for the past six days have been giving off flies and other insects. The "clean up" scouts Saturday naturally did not spy this condition of affairs, between lines of freight cars, for the powerful transportation company is supposed to have its own "clean up" gang. Still, if any one has taken notice for some years past the yard will have been noticed to have been the dumping place for all kinds of filth and the breeding place of pests.

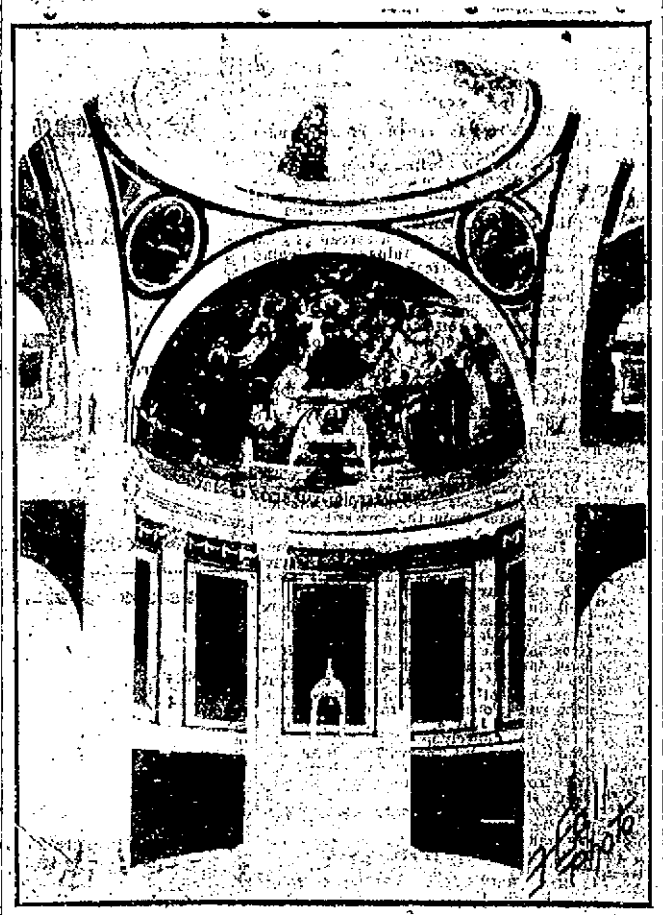

It has also been noted for its deep mud, through which horses have had to tug until they injured themselves and wagons and harnesses have been damaged. Yet, with the almost daily cruelty to animals that has had to be practiced there to haul freight from the cars, the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals could not see its way to move in the matter. The Interstate Commerce Commission has called the company's attention to its roadbeds and the company has replied that repairs have been made in a satisfactory manner. This is not so. A gang has filled in some with round cobblestone and round gravel, which rolls and shifts under heavy loads, and the horses still have to strain themselves in pulling out partial loads.

A visit to the yard by any one will convince them that the conditions are as I have stated and the public is requested to go and see for themselves how Newport is served on the old Cove lands which she gave to the company.

ARTIST STURM'S SKETCH OF THE SANCTUARY DESIGN FOR THE NEW ST. JOSEPH'S CHURCH.

The allegorical painting in the top of the sanctuary recess pictures St. Joseph and other patrons of the Roman Catholic Church. The whole is a pleasing composition of the artist's brush and under the electric lighting arrangements will prove a great addition to the handsome architectural and decorative details of the interior. Since the surface where this painting is located is concave in form and receives little natural light, the figure work is done on canvas cut out and then applied to the wall with white lead cement, making it a permanent part of the wall itself. The background is then painted in and various parts gilded.

FOR A NEW YELLOW ROSE.

Roche Prize Awarded to Gardener William Gray Against Two Rivals.

Awards at the Horticultural Society's June Show, the Roses Being Especially Handsome.

The June show of the Newport Horticultural Society, which opened its doors Tuesday afternoon, is worth seeing if one cares at all for flowers. The exhibits are not quite as numerous as usual, the weather conditions not having been so favorable as in some former years, but what they lack in number they make up in quality, and in this respect the show is one of the best ever held by the society. The flowers are mainly roses, and they are especially handsome. There is a fair display of sweet peas, but it is rather early for these flowers. The fruit and vegetables are unusually good, and the competition in vegetables was keen.

The greatest individual interest was in the competition for a new yellow rose, offered by Mrs. Frances Roche, and in this three new flowers were entered, Mrs. Roche's desire being to find a new rose of the Marechal Niel color, with a more substantial stem. The judges awarded the prize to the rose which Mr. William Gray, gardener for Mrs. William B. Leeds, exhibited.

The full list of awards by the judges is as follows:

REPAIR MEN TO CONTINUE.

Training and Torpedo Station Civilian Employes Uncertain as to Length of Shutdown.

A number of civilian employes at the Training Station are expecting to continue work after Saturday, as they are given to understand that the orders for the suspension do not affect the branch in which they are, since they are engaged in repair and maintenance of the property. There is no question but the manufacture of torpedoes and such work at the Torpedo Station will be suspended, but on the whole there is a decidely unsettled condition, as there is no way of telling how long the shutdown will last. Perhaps of the various civilians to be affected those least worried are the carpenters, for they know that if they do not care to take a vacation that they can go to work Monday morning somewhere in the city, since there has been a cry for carpenters all the spring.

In the ancient Roman calendar the fifteenth day of March, May, July and October and the thirteenth day of the other months was called the Ides. It is probable that the name originated in an attempt to designate the time of the full moon.
